CRUISE SHIP NOW 'TWO-STACKER'

Red funnel of the tanker Valchem was left perched on the bow of cruise ship Santa Rosa 'like a smoking cigar' today after two vessels crashed in clear weather 22 miles off Atlantic City, N.J. Smokestack and superstructure came away when Santa Rosa backed off from after-section of tanker, which was almost cut in two. (See below).—(AP Wire-photos.)

Dalai Lama Fleeing To India?

DARJEELING, India (AP)—A reliable source here on the Indian border reported today that the Chinese Communists have announced that the Dalai Lama fled from Lhasa during the revolt in the Tibetan capital.

The whereabouts of Tibet's 23-year-old religious and political leader, revered by his people as "the living Buddha," was unknown in Kalimpong. There were rumors he was heading south toward the Indian protectorate of Sikkim, between Darjeeling and Tibet, or southeast toward the Indian province of Assam.

MAY GO TO INDIA

Refugee Tibetans were speculating that their Buddhist god-king would remain with the resistance forces in southern Tibet or might cross into India.

Reports persisted that the revolt that broke out in Lhasa last Friday has spread to the countryside. The Chinese have been reported in control once again of Lhasa.

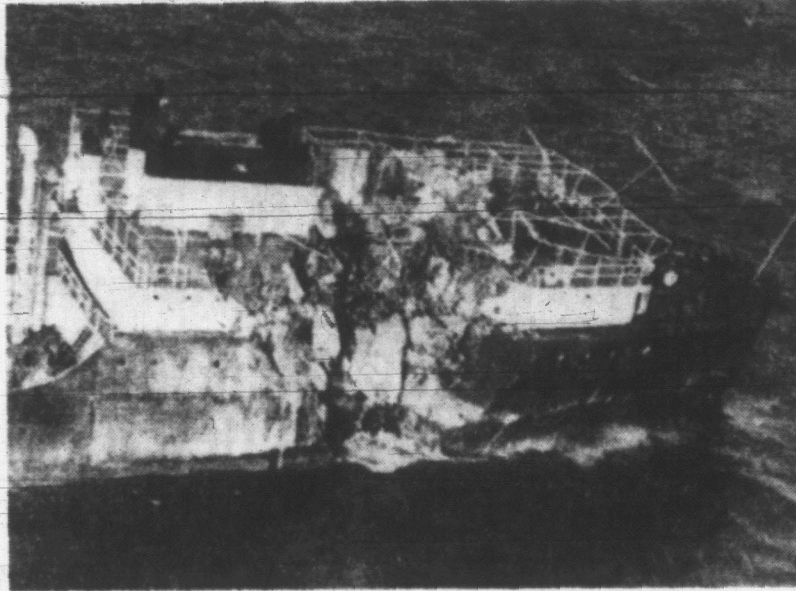

TAIPEI (UPI)—President Chiang Kai-shek said today he would lead his Nationalist Chinese forces against the Communists if the Tibetan rebels carry on their fight.

Chiang's offer of help to the Tibetan rebels was viewed by best-informed quarters in Washington as a matter of trying to give them moral support and an effort to encourage revolts in other areas dominated by Red China.

Authorities could think of no way in which Chiang could give any consequential aid in men or materials to the Tibetan rebels.

Lebanese Pledge

CAIRO (AP)—A Lebanese pledge to co-operate in working for Arab unity strengthened President Nasser today in his feud with Irai Premier Abdel Karim Kassem.

Pilgrimage From Bethany Opens Easter in Holy Land

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI)—Protestants begin their Easter weekend today with a communion service and a pilgrimage from Bethany to Jerusalem along the route taken by Jesus on his march to the crucifixion.

The pilgrimage began in a basement crypt reached by descending a narrow stone staircase. In the center of the room is an altar of remembrance built of 12 stones from Bethel, untouched by tools according to the biblical injunction.

This crypt is called the oratory or reconciliation room. Around the walls are four bas-reliefs illustrating the story told in Matthew 5:23-24 of the two quarreling brothers whose sacrifice was accepted by Heaven once they had made their peace with each other. A worship service will be held here, emphasizing reconciliation as the way to God.

The worshippers then ascend to the last supper room on the second floor of the building. Here a communion service was held with fellowship the predominant theme.

Then the worshippers continued their pilgrimage ascending to the silent room directly over the 152-foot Jesus tower.

A small gate opens to a stairway leading to the silent room where the pilgrimage ends in meditation.

On the morning of Easter Sunday, members of the Protestant denominations in Israel Jerusalem will attend a sunrise service on the terrace of St. Andrew's Scottish Presbyterian Church just across from Mt. Zion. With Gethsemane and the Mount of Olives clearly visible, the worshippers will face deep purple horizon lighting up in pink and gold, and exult in the joy of Easter morning coming up over the Holy City's spires and domes.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

O Thou who didst raise from the dead our Lord, Jesus Christ, raise up within us strong characters to withstand the raucous calls of evil. Create within us a clean heart. Lift us above the common and unclear that we may be new creatures, created by God and re-created by Jesus Christ, our Lord, Amen.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A defence department spokesman said today that last year's high-altitude atomic tests show the feasibility of causing a total—but temporary—"black-out" of all radio and radar in the Moscow area.

Roy W. Johnson, director of the defence department's advanced research projects agency, said this could be done — in theory — by setting off high altitude nuclear shots over the Indian Ocean.

He quickly added that Russia, presumably by space-shots in other areas, could produce a similar blackout in the U.S. (The sheet of radiation produced by the high-altitude explosions was about 100 miles thick and soared to altitudes as high as 4,000 miles above the earth. It was reported at the White House Wednesday.

AMNESTY URGED BY A-G FOR 15 JAILED LOGGERS

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Attorney-General Leslie Curtis today asked the federal government of 15 loggers sent to jail as a result of the central Newfoundland woods dispute.

The minister said the request for amnesty has been made by the Newfoundland Brotherhood of Woods-Workers (Ind.) formed by Premier Smallwood to counter the IWA.

1 DEAD, 3 MISSING

Liner Knifes Into Tanker

NEW YORK (AP)—A return voyage from a vacation cruise to the Caribbean was interrupted by a shuddering jolt for 247 passengers when the liner Santa Rosa and a tanker collided at 3 a.m. today 22 miles off Atlantic City, N.J.

One crew member of the tanker Valchem was killed, three were missing and 16 were injured. Nobody on the $25,000,000 cruise ship was hurt but a fire broke out in a forward paint room. It was kept from spreading but smouldered for hours before it could be extinguished.

The Santa Rosa's prow knifed half through the stern section of the tanker and disabled its engines. For some 2½ hours, the ships were kept wedged together until their captains decided there would be no danger of sinking if they pulled apart.

When the Santa Rosa backed away, its damaged bow carried the smokestack of the Valchem.

WAIT FOR TUGBOATS

The tanker stood by to await the arrival of tugboats for towing to port. The liner got under way for New York, about 75 miles away, at mid-morning.

Seventeen members of the Valchem crew were transferred to the Santa Rosa. Of these, three were to be admitted to hospital in New York, 13 were treated for minor injuries and one was uninjured. An 18th tanker crew member was taken by helicopter to Atlantic City, but was dead on arrival.

The Valchem had been heading for southern ports carrying only ballast. Had it been loaded with fuel, disaster might have resulted.

Circumstances leading to the collision were not immediately clear. The weather was believed to have been clear, though with a slight haze and a slight wind.

The Valchem, about half the size of the 16,000-ton Santa Rosa, is owned by the Heron Steamship Company and carried a crew of 42. The Santa Rosa has a crew of 265.

Renew Radio Licences

OTTAWA (SP)—The board of broadcast governors today recommended renewal of all 171 broadcasting licences that expire at the end of this month but proposed that some of the new licences expire in periods shorter than the previous five-year terms.

Five of Family Die

KENTVILLE, N.S. (CP)—Five members of one family died early today and five others escaped when fire destroyed their two-story wooden farm house near this Annapolis Valley town.

The victims were Mrs. Milton Creemer, 46; her daughters, Mrs. Lorna Wyles, 23, and Joyce, 14, a son Lorne, 7, and Mrs. Wyles' daughter, Lorna, 4.

Allies Send Summit Notes To Russians

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States, Britain and France expressed willingness today to meet at the summit with Russia if a prior foreign ministers' conference can narrow down differences and prepare constructive proposals.

The three allied Western powers formally presented their views in similar notes to the Kremlin.

All three agreed that a summit conference this summer would be worthwhile if the foreign ministers' meeting in Geneva in May shows promise. The U.S. note specifically listed a peace treaty with Germany and the tense Berlin situation as problems that could be dealt with by the foreign ministers and later at the summit.

However, the note said the purpose of the negotiations would "be to reach positive agreements over as wide a field as possible."

The U.S. emphasized that the foreign ministers should discuss "questions relating to Germany, including a peace treaty with Germany and the question of Berlin."

LONDON (Reuters)—Princess Margaret will accompany the Queen Mother on her private visit to Italy next month, it was reliably learned today.

New Evidence Found?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Defence counsel in the Elizabeth Duncan murder case today claimed the existence of "startling new evidence" which he said could help win a new trial for his convicted client.

2nd Body Found Under Avalanche

BRALORNE, B.C. (CP)—The body of Christa Weinhold, 26, was recovered today by searchers probing the avalanche which swept her and her husband to their death Tuesday.

Discovery of the body ended a 36-hour search by RCMP and rescue workers, who had hoped that she might be found alive in an air pocket beneath the snow in McGillivray Pass, 15 miles southwest of here.

Students Join Smallwood's Day of Mourning

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—This capital city of Canada's newest province was in mourning today for what Premier Smallwood called a "betrayal" by the federal government.

Premier Smallwood addressed the students, about 700 of whom marched to the House of Assembly. Mr. Smallwood wore a black coat, black hat and dark glasses as a sign of mourning. He said he was sure the rest of Canada would rise in rebellion against the treatment accorded Newfoundland by Ottawa.

The students, carrying placards with such slogans as "Johnny is a joker," hanged Prime Minister Diefenbaker in effigy before dispersing.

It was the first time mourning had been proclaimed in Newfoundland since King George VI died in 1952.

Premier Smallwood said Wednesday night that Prime Minister Diefenbaker "plunged Newfoundland into mourning" with his announcement that the province will get $36,500,000 in federal grants between now and March 31, 1962. After that, the prime minister told the Commons, "Newfoundland's position can be considered in the light of the general methods of providing financial assistance to the provinces which may be in effect at that time."

PROVINCE SHOCKED

Mr. Smallwood said "Newfoundlanders are stunned by the Canadian government's betrayal of Newfoundland."

"Prime Minister Diefenbaker's statement on what his administration intends to do to honor... the terms of Confederation plunged Newfoundland into mourning for another Canadian obligation outraged by Mr. Diefenbaker."

Chesley A. Crosby, who with Mr. Smallwood was a member of the seven-man Newfoundland delegation which negotiated the terms of confederation, said today he was not surprised by the Ottawa announcement.

"I had no faith in that contract at the time and time has borne me out," Mr. Crosby was the only delegate to disagree with the terms of union of Newfoundland and Canada.

Liberal Leader Pearson said in the Commons the federal assumption of no federal obligation beyond 1962 is "quite unwarranted." Later in a

B.C. Chief Gets No. 2 RCMP Post

Assistant Commissioner Clifford W. Harvison, 38, who has headed the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in B.C. since July, 1956, has been appointed a deputy commissioner at RCMP headquarters in Ottawa, it was announced today.

He will leave Victoria early next week and take up his new duties April 1. His successor here is expected to be named early in April.

The promotion was announced by Commissioner L. H. Nicholson who resigns April 1 in disagreement over the government's refusal to send RCMP reinforcements to strike-torn Newfoundland.

Harvison, who is one of Canada's leading criminal investigators, was prominently mentioned as a successor to Nicholson. But the job went to deputy commissioner C. E. Rivett-Carnac, who formerly headed the B.C. force.

Born in Montreal, Harvison first joined the force in 1919. He has taken part in many of Canada's outstanding prosecutions, foremost of which was the postwar espionage case touched off by Russian cypher clerk Igor Gouzenko.

His Ottawa appointment was announced on his 38th birthday.

BROKE RUM RING

He was a constable in Montreal when Prohibition was law in the United States. New York racketeers were importing liquor from Canada and Harvison's investigations led to the arrest of seven ring-leaders and 30 other operators.

During the Second World War, Harvison investigated several cases of fraud in war contracts.

In 1946 he worked on the spy case revealed by Igor Gouzenko. He and another officer interrogated Gouzenko and a number of others, including former MP Fred Rose.

PORTSMOUTH, England — Enraged Labor Party members of Portsmouth Council have threatened to un-leash the ultimate deterrent against their Conservative colleagues in a dispute over the identity of the next lord mayor.

They threaten to boycott the mayor's cricket team next summer.

"We had eight in the team last summer," said a Labor spokesman. "Without us, he won't be able to put out a side."

The Tory majority has chosen one of its number, Leonard Evans, as Portsmouth's next lord mayor and Labor councillors say the choice violates the unwritten agreement that the majority is traditionally a non-party office. Labor's candidate is Alderman John Lacey, a 40-has fits of depression and refuses to perform. Officials at the admiral hospital said she appears to be responding well to treatment — she's even licked the chief veterinarian's face.

Sommers Appeal Filed With Supreme Court

VANCOUVER (CPI) — Appeals have been filed with the Supreme Court of Canada on behalf of former B.C. forests minister Robert Sommers and timber executive H. Wilson Gray.

Angelo Branca, counsel for Sommers, and J. R. Nicholson, counsel for Gray, said the appeals were filed Wednesday. Sommers and Gray were sentenced to five years after being convicted of conspiracy and bribery in connection with

ONE SIAMESE TWIN SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

LONDON (UPI) — Doctors today reported one infant Siamese twin "appreciably better" following surgical separation from his brother.

Timothy and Jeremy "Phickeray", 11 months old, who were born joined at the head, were separated Monday in a 10-hour operation.

Both remained in critical condition but Timothy has improved to the extent of feeding from a bottle. Jeremy's condition "continues to give rise to grave anxiety," doctors said.

HONOLULU — John Peela, selected as outstanding young man of the year 1958 for the Hawaiian Island of Molokai, will be sentenced April 14 for embezzling $200 from Molokai Community Hospital. Peela, 33, was a bookkeeper at the hospital. A shortage of $16,000 had been reported from 1955 through 1958.

LONDON — Film actor Michael Wilding was looking today for an apartment large enough for his wife, his father, his two sons and his ex-wife, Elizabeth Taylor.

When a reporter expressed surprise at this arrangement, Wilding said:

"Why not? Elizabeth is coming over in May with my two boys — whom I adore. Naturally I want them to stay with me. Obviously she will come and stay with us as well. We are all good friends, you know."

BIRMINGHAM, England — A man who rode a horse into a tavern and sat on the animal while drinking a pint of beer has been certified as a mental patient, a court was told Wednesday.

Crown counsel asked in the circumstances that a charge against Albert Gauden of being drunk and disorderly be adjourned indefinitely. The defence lawyer said there was every evidence Gauden was sober when he rode into the tavern.

"But you have heard the sad sequel and it could be that the police were well justified in forming another conclusion at the time," he added.

IN PARLIAMENT

'Come Here, I'll Show Him'—Chevrier

(From Times News Services)

OTTAWA — Parliament's Easter recess offers an 11-day respite to members inflamed over freight rates, federal financial aid to Newfoundland and St. Lawrence Canal layoffs.

Before the House recessed Wednesday until April 6 there was a short-lived hint of violence as Lionel Chevrier (L. Montreal Laurier) challenged Fred Stinson (P.C.-York Centre) to "come on over here and I will show him."

Speaker Roland Michener cooled off the disputants, at odds on the issue of why men are being laid off canal jobs along the St. Lawrence River between Montreal and Lake Ontario.

Mr. Chevrier conceded he had lost his temper a trifle quickly, but later joined CCF.

'Bits and Pieces' Government

Mr. Argue said this is a "bits-and-pieces" government. He accused it of tossing the "hot potato" of freight rates to a royal commission. Then it would hide behind the commission, hoping people would forget it had broken its election promise to equalize freight rates.

"Canadians are fed up to the teeth with royal commissions," said Mr. Argue.

Mr. Hees said the proposed legislation is an interim measure, providing $20,000,000 over a 12-month period. It was estimated the subsidy would permit a reduction of some seven percentage points, making the authorized increase in freight rates about 10 per cent instead of 17.

Should Get Better Service

Erhart Regier (CCF-Burnaby-Coquitlam) said if the railways are to be subsidized, the taxpayers, who pay the shot, should be guaranteed better service.

Harold Winch (CCF-Vancouver East) said he did not think the measure was going to be of much help to British Columbia, which was "suffering most" from freight rates. "If British Columbia is suffering most, it will benefit most," Mr. Hees retorted.

For 20 minutes of the freight rates debate, a woman was in the chair. Margaret Aitken (P.C.-York-Humber) substituted for Charles E. Rea (P.C.-Toronto-Spadina), deputy chairman of committees. She is believed the first woman to act as Commons chairman.

The freight rate debate will be resumed April 7.

Mental Health Prober Plans Public Hearings

VANCOUVER (CP) — Dr. Mathew Ross, 41, of Washington, D.C., medical director of the American Psychiatric Association, said here Wednesday he will hold a series of public hearings this year during a survey of British Columbia's mental health needs and resources.

Dr. Ross told a press conference that about 10 such hearings will be held at key points throughout the province. He said it is the first Canadian mental health survey to include such hearings.

The American Psychiatric Association last October agreed to handle the survey on request of the B.C. government. Dr. Ross was appointed to head the survey, which is expected to take 18 months to complete.

The American psychiatrist said written briefs have been asked from any interested persons or groups.

Appointments will be made for those invited to follow up their briefs orally. The hearings are expected to begin Aug. 1.

Labor Holds Key Riding In U.K. Vote

SWAFFHAM, England (Reuters) — The Opposition Labor party retained a key marginal parliamentary seat today in a by-election that could influence Britain's next general election.

Laborite Albert Hilton had 15,314 votes, Conservative Mrs. Mary Kellett 13,960 and Independent Andrew Fountaine 785. The Labor majority was 659 votes. Labor won the seat in 1955 by 193 votes in a straight fight.

The result was a rebuff to Conservative hopes of unseating Labor in the Southwest Norfolk district. Observers believe a Conservative win would have brought pressure from rank-and-file members for a spring general election.

Politics in Power

WHATEVER PEOPLE MAY think about public or private power, they recognize one irrefutable principle: the agency which administers public power must be divorced from partisan politics.

In the face of that axiom Mr. Bennett's appointment of two cabinet ministers to the British Columbia Power Commission is regrettable and virtually inexcusable.

How much closer could the Provincial Government be brought to the administration of public power? The opportunities for interference are far too great, regardless of the esteem in which the ministers may be held personally.

This is a bad principle—a principle which has two cabinet members sitting in on every meeting of the commission. Why should Mr. Bennett have appointed them if he did not want to interfere?

No doubt Dr. Hugh Keenleyside, recently appointed chairman of the commission, will exercise his authority in an attempt to preserve independence for the commission. But his position, as head of such a commission, will be difficult.

It is to be hoped that the new chairman will come to his post in the immediate future, that he will be excused by the United Nations to assume the duties he has accepted by the British Columbia appointment.

This is a decisive time in the affairs of the commission. Dr. Keenleyside will have to live with the decisions which are being made. He should be on the spot to help to make them and to block political intrusion, conscious or unconscious, in the affairs of the agency that he will head.

Mr. Cameron on the Spiral

MR. COLIN CAMERON, A PASSIONATE, left-wing leader of the CCF, evidently has had some second thoughts about the problems of his friends, the labor unions. His latest speech in Vancouver is highly revealing, though some of his friends probably won't like it.

The labor unions, he says, will be blamed unjustly for inflation and unemployment. They must reconsider their position. "The voice of those left behind in the wage spiral," he adds, "and of the chamber of commerce gave Mr. Bennett the chance to kick labor in the teeth. The more they are left behind the more it will embolden those who want to suppress democracy."

Mr. Cameron is entitled, of course, to interpret a very mild change in the provincial labor law as the suppression of democracy. That interpretation is to be expected from a politician who thinks that democracy is the exclusive possession of the CCF.

But few men who know Mr. Cameron and his record could have expected him to deplore the wage spiral and warn the labor unions against it. Most people will be glad to see him learning some simple economic arithmetic at last. It is even more satisfactory to hear him announcing his discovery with courage and candor to his union friends.

Mr. Cameron seems to speak of those "left behind" in the wage spiral as a relatively small group. If he has studied the mathematics of our society he must know that the great bulk of the Canadian people are left behind.

Inflation doesn't damage merely a few rich men (who usually manage to hedge against it) but all the people, especially the little and politically powerless people who cannot raise their wages at will. Even those who can raise their wages, however, do not escape inflation in the end. They are caught in the price spiral, which follows the wage spiral, and in the unemployment spiral which follows both.

If he has not yet thought his way entirely through these problems, Mr. Cameron at least has seen that their solution cannot be achieved, so far as labor is concerned, by the simple device of raising wages, regardless of production costs. And though he hopes to be re-elected some day mainly by labor union support, he has the honesty to attack this notion in the house of his friends. Are they ready to listen?

Warning to Highway Users

THE CANADIAN HIGHWAY safety conference has made its mortality forecast for the long Easter weekend. According to its predictions, 35 lives will be claimed in this country: 20 in Ontario and Quebec, 10 in the west and five in the Maritimes.

This is a melancholy outlook—all the more melancholy because in most cases the death-causing accidents could be avoided.

Between now and the time motorists take to the road for their spring outings, perhaps drivers may note the prospective toll and make their private pledges of safety.

To a very substantial degree, care on the highway at this time can help to promote a happy Easter.

A Forward-Looking Plan

ANNOUNCEMENT OF ARRANGEMENTS by the Federal Government, the province and Victoria College to make the Gordon Head army camp site available to the co-educational institution will be generally welcomed as a far-seeing and practical program. The main buildings of the College will remain on the present campus, the new 119-acre property will be used for student dormitories, sports facilities and future expansion in specialized fields. All land requirements will be met for the foreseeable future.

This plan is particularly acceptable. There had been some fear that with university status, the local institution might eventually grow beyond the point of maximum efficiency and value as an educational plant. Colleges of moderate size enjoy certain advantages over those which attain large-scale dimensions with the attendant impersonality and mass-production methods.

By keeping the College classrooms on the present site the institution will automatically be limited to the most effective size. But at the same time it will enjoy the great benefits of adequate grounds nearby for the many other facets of a university environment.

Action now ensures that the Gordon Head area will not be broken up piecemeal for lesser objectives, and it provides a guarantee of effective development for one of the few such parcels of ground now available close to the city. All parties to the project are to be congratulated, particularly the people of Greater Victoria, today and tomorrow, who stand to benefit most by the plan.

Then There Were Five

BY THE WITHDRAWAL OF Iraq from the Baghdad Pact, the anti-communist bloc will lose little more than the name. Since he seized office last July, Premier Kassem has taken no part in the organization. His formal departure now merely puts his antagonism on record.

The group was named after the Iraq capital city, however, and a new name will now be advisable. The pact embraced what was known as the "northern tier" countries lying along the southern border of the Soviet Union. Turkey, Iran and Pakistan held the front-line positions; Iraq, having no direct contact with Soviet territory, was in the second rank. To these Middle Eastern nations Britain lent strength with full membership and the United States gave support with close cooperation although stopping short of complete integration.

The objective was mutual aid against Soviet aggression, and it was hoped by this means to provide an effective bar to Russian penetration of the Middle East. This aim has been only partially realized, since Soviet influence has already reached Egypt and is a powerful factor in the Iraq situation.

Egypt's President Nasser has long opposed the Baghdad Pact as a threat to his leadership of a pan-Arab bloc, and has sought to win the Arab members from their allegiance to it. It is ironic that Iraq's withdrawal now should be under leftist auspices which are directly opposed to Colonel Nasser's ambitions.

Iraq's abandonment of the pact will weaken it, but no more than the whole Middle East situation has been weakened in the past two years. The original defensive purpose of the pact is still feasible insofar as limited military adventures by Russia are concerned. In the broader field of general nuclear war it would have little significance in any case.

LOOSE ENDS

Education: It's Wonderful for Somebody Else

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

SO far as I can discover I am the only person in all Canada who has no views on education. Everybody else has views, always profound, frequently violent. You cannot pick up a newspaper without finding a speech on education. You cannot listen to a conversation in a legislature, a drawing room or a beer parlor without hearing about the ignorance of the young. The country writhes with education. A man who has none must listen, tongue-tied and ashamed, while the educated fight it out.

Hutchison

Everyone agrees that Canada's only hope lies in the education of the young but no one seems to worry much about the education of the old. Everyone wants to educate his neighbor, never himself. Education is always for somebody else, especially the young, who have no power to resist.

FOR years I have been listening every day to my learned friends, demanding more education until I concluded that all of them were busily educating themselves in their spare time. Such men, I supposed, must rush home from their daily work and plunge into books of literature or science since invariably, next morning, they had some new argument for education, some new reason to distrust the young, some new criticism of our schools and universities.

Then it occurred to me that nobody could be quite as wise as all my friends appeared and I began to check up on them secretly. The results of my survey, which I kept in a little black book, were disquieting.

FOR example, I discovered by discreet inquiry that one man who talks about education throughout his working hours spends at least six evenings a week watching television, preferably wrestling matches. He has not read a book for three years. (I got that information from his wife who is fed up with the whole business.)

Or take the case of another man who writes to the newspapers every second day to deplore the public's ignorance of government. Confronted with my brutal question, he couldn't estimate the Gross National Product within 10 billion dollars or name six members of the Federal Government. But that didn't stop him writing his usual letter next day to argue that democracy was perishing for lack of essential knowledge.

I also questioned a prominent member of a parent-teacher association who condemns our school curricula as obsolete but hasn't looked at a school book for more than 30 years and restricts his own education to pocket books of detective stories.

WHILE I could cite many more cases of the same sort I would not have you think I am critical of the amateur educators. On the contrary, I am all in favor of them if they will leave me alone in my ignorance, which is too much to hope for.

The motives of such people are pure and noble—they are determined that the young must not be like them. I can think of no more worthy object.

They know, in fact, that our generation has made a sorry mess of things, that the next generation may not even have the chance to grow up in a nuclear world, let alone the chance to educate itself and its offspring. They are therefore resolved to teach the young; though it is too late to teach themselves. Ours is the most, unselfish generation in all history.

STILL, educated and intelligent as the next generation may be, and infinitely better than ours, it is not yet in control of affairs. We must get along somehow until the newly-educated come to the rescue of the ignorant.

We must manage our affairs as best we may with the indifferent governments and the electors already of voting age. We cannot slough off all our responsibilities on our innocent children. They are not quite ready to clutch the world from our shaking hands. Difficult and regrettable as it is, we must live a little while longer.

It might thus be useful, though the idea is drastic and heretical, for the educators to educate themselves, a little anyway. It might also be useful (I speak with deference) if we paused for a moment in the furious work of education and decided what we were trying to do, what kind of men and women we were trying to make of the young.

IF they are not to be like us, which God forbid, what are they to be like? Are we to educate them for a life of increasing ease and luxury with the assurance that the world owes them a living? Or should we tell them the truth that the world, for all our improvements, is still a pretty hard, grim environment? Is our objective to be two cars in every garage or possibly two ideas in every head?

In short, what sort of life should we prepare them for? I don't know, of course, but I had expected the dedicated amateur educators to know and obviously they don't. They are too busy educating somebody else.

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

Challenge Ably Met

I hope it is not too late to comment upon one of the plays seen and heard, in the recent School Drama Festival.

I refer to the scene from "The Barretts of Wimpole St." I thought this was a challenge for young high school students, a challenge most admirably met. The scene was presented with simplicity and dignity, and without unnecessary fuss. This atmosphere was well sustained. The lines were clearly and intelligently spoken, with life and meaning behind the words. The voices were pleasantly modulated and used without unnatural strain or pitch.

It was directed with skill and sensitivity and with great benefit, I am sure, to the young actors; a high standard was set. I do not know the director but, with your permission, should like to take this opportunity of congratulating him.

'While Working on Income Tax'

While working on our income tax return it is no comfort to be reminded that the $15 million profit made on Northern Ontario Gas Pipeline stock was untaxable.

The profits were substantial due in part to some of the stock being distributed to promoters for as little as eight cents a share before the public offering at $12. If this affair had taken place in the United States the profit would have been taxable.

About 40 years ago the U.S. government, recognizing the inequality of taxing the income of wage-earners and businessmen and leaving the profit of stockmarket and land speculators untouched, made profit on capital subject to taxation. Because most people trading securities have other forms of regular income it is not a tax that imposes hardship.

Government and Servants

It seems strange to me that the government of B.C. stands out from other provincial governments for its seeming indifference to the good relationship so essentially important between a government and its employees.

Other provincial governments have established a decent atmosphere between themselves and their employees, and had such an atmosphere prevailed in B.C. the representatives of the provincial service would not have been driven to the drastic action of recent days.

To place the onus of responsibility for good relationship solely on the shoulder of the BCGEA would be entirely wrong. Whilst the association has a part to play the government of B.C. in its position as the employer has the major responsibility—in the building up and maintenance of an efficient, loyal and contented service.

To the seekers of facts it is evident that the relationship between the governments of Saskatchewan and Alberta and their respective employees is on a far higher level than in B.C. This state of affairs will also be found to exist in Manitoba, Ontario and probably other provinces. Why, then, the stress and strain existing in this province?

In Alberta good relationship is maintained and matters affecting the welfare of the service fully aired and discussed through a joint council comprised of three cabinet ministers and three representatives of the association (CSA of A) together with other personnel required to give information to the council. This council has operated for some 38 years and has slowly been built up to a very effective body.

In any government service inequalities and many other matters, apart from salary adjustments, creep in, and these matters if not nipped in the bud can lead to bad reactions. Hence, one important need through some agreed method is frank and free discussion between a government and its employees.

Mr. Bruce Hutchison in a recent article stressed the obvious. The obvious it seems to me is now right under our nose. For an efficient, loyal and contented service there must be a good relationship between the B.C. government and their employees. Towards furthering this end may I suggest that the Times could give a lead by allowing one of its able journalists to explore the situation in B.C., Alberta and Saskatchewan and further afield if necessary, then submit his findings.

Purge in Baghdad

By MICHAEL ADAMS, from Beirut

TO leave Baghdad is always a pleasure; today it is an intense relief as well.

Hatred is being organized with cynical deliberation in the Iraq capital today, and by teaching the Baghdad mob to hate Nasser the revolutionary authorities seem to be opening up for themselves a future of violence and re-creation which threaten to engulf their country.

Press and radio are both subject to the closest supervision and are allowed to bandy about unsupported allegations which ministers in private admit are untrue—just as they dissociate themselves from the outrageous indiscretions of Colonel Mahdawi, president of the People's Court.

Such restrained opposition as was still possible in the Iraqi press has been stifled by the action of the mob when the offices and plants of three newspapers were wrecked.

A purge in the army is proceeding, and the last few days in Baghdad during the past week. It is difficult to be precise about these as in the present climate of Baghdad even a telephone call of inquiry from a Western journalist or diplomat is enough to ensure the suspect's downfall.

Units of the People's Resistance Forces are active again, stopping passersby in the streets and checking the papers of those entering the American Embassy. Customs officials at Baghdad airport are searching the baggage of travellers and carefully examining especially any papers or photographs.

Armored Guard

The United Arab Republic Embassy is guarded by an armored car, and remaining Egyptians in the capital are lying low after unconfirmed reports of violence suffered by individual Egyptians employed by the Iraqi government.

Tension is acute as further reports come in of bloodshed in Mosul. Travelers arriving in Baghdad from Mosul tell of bodies lying in the streets and others hanging upside down from lamp-posts in the aftermath of four days of fighting and looting which started last weekend.

Estimates of the casualties, which are admittedly based on piecemeal evidence, run into hundreds and sometimes as high as two thousand.

Some rebel prisoners have been taken to Baghdad; where about sixty were seen being manhandled out of the Mosul train in fetters. Yesterday there was talk in the capital of executions, and Colonel Mahdawi has spoken with relish of the modern Iraqi practice of dragging the bodies of "traitors" through the streets.

The Iraqi government has maintained outward unity, though inside it various stresses are at work.

Sayad Mehdi Kubba, one of the three members of the Sovereignty Council, has submitted his resignation, which has not been accepted; my request to see him was refused on the grounds that, like so many people in Baghdad these days, he was "unwell."

Suspension Order

The Minister of Guidance, whose suspension order against a Communist newspaper on the day he took office was countermanded by the military authorities without reference to the minister, has not returned from the journey to India on which he embarked next day.

On the face of it, Kassem has won a victory by quelling Colonel Shawwa's ill-considered rising and holding on to the support of the army and mob. But there have been two important results of this episode, either of which might destroy Kassem before long.

It has been shown that at a hint of trouble the different elements inside Iraq are ready to fall on one another with unhesitating brutality; and the Iraq government has completed its isolation from the rest of the Arab world.

In the vicious propaganda war that has opened between Iraq and the UAR there is no reason to expect that Kassem will fare better than others who have challenged Nasser's leadership in the Arab world.

'Mr. Moon'

I wonder what old Mr. Moon's thinking of. Moving silently there in the sky? I wonder if he has a feeling of guilt. And if perhaps there's a tear in his eye? I wonder if he feels he's failed utterly. To supply mankind's needs down below? I wonder if he feels he's moving too fast.

Or maybe a trifle too slow? I wonder if he thinks he's done a poor job.

Of controlling the weather and tides. Or that perhaps he hasn't shed enough light.

On prospective bridegrooms and brides? I wonder if he feels he's getting too old. After millions of years in the air? He may even feel that he might be replaced.

By some hideous man-made affair. Else why would these earth creatures keep acting so.

With rockets and earth satellite. Endeavoring daily to reach farther up. And drive the old boy out of sight.

A warning to scientists all the world over. American, British or Russ. I wouldn't blame old Mr. Moon (not a bit).

If he took a pot-shot at us. He cannot be claimed by any one group. Whether peaceful, or war-loving powers. That old yellow ball, up there in the sky is not only yours, but he's ours.

A short time ago, I'd not give a dime. For fifty square miles of the moon. But some things have changed, quite a bit as of late.

And I made my decision too soon. I think that I will buy a lot after all. Perhaps the "Egg Heads" know what they are worth.

It may be the best place to live, after all. As they've made such a mess of the earth.

Surprise Program

THE slim woman with the greying hair was looking happy and enthusiastic. "I want to get a copy of Huckleberry Finn," she said. "I thought of getting it from the library, but I think I'd like a copy for myself for keeps."

Ruth

"It's that Sunrise Semester Program," she explained to the woman who was with her. "Channel 12. It comes on every morning from 7.30 until 8 and then it's repeated at 9 o'clock. It's real education. Like going back to school again. No commercials, either."

"Seven-thirty to 8. I'm always cutting lunches then," said the other woman.

"So was I," said the first one. "But now I do them from 7 to 7.30. If I haven't finished, the kids do them for me because they say it's time I went to 'school' and I take my cup of coffee into the living room."

"I've had more fun with that program," she continued. "It's Huckleberry Finn right now. We had The Brothers Karamazov before that."

"I don't know the program at all," said the other woman. "We don't have television. Most of the programs are such trash."

"Well, I figure that since you only get a chance to see Huckleberry Finn in the week, it's worth it. Really, you can't expect much more. You take Huckleberry Finn. I read it when I was a kid. But just hearing this fellow talking about it, and reading little bits of it, made me want to have the book in the house so I could read it right through again. And I'm getting more out of it now than when I was a kid."

YOUR HEALTH

Ectopic Pregnancy

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

In a recent fine article, Drs. G. D. Malkasian, Jr., J. S. Hunter, Jr., and W. H. ReMine reported a study of 322 consecutive cases of ectopic pregnancy in which the embryo started developing in one of the tubes coming out from the side of the womb. Because the wall of the tube is so thin and weak, in these cases, sooner or later, the tube is likely to tear open, and then, if the woman is not quickly operated on, she is likely to bleed internally to a dangerous degree. Often she has to be given blood by transfusion.

Alvarez

A woman who has missed a few periods, should always think of a possible ectopic pregnancy when she suddenly is seized with abdominal pain low in her abdomen, and at the same time perhaps has some vaginal bleeding, together with nausea and weakness due to loss of blood. With such symptoms she had better get quickly to her obstetrician so that she can be taken care of. Occasionally, there is pain at the tip of one shoulder due to irritation of the midriff. Sometimes when a woman is not sure that she is pregnant she can have an animal test for pregnancy made. Unfortunately, with an ectopic pregnancy, this test can give a wrong result.

Out of 101 patients who were studied for years after an ectopic pregnancy, 37 had a total of 70 pregnancies. Among these 70 pregnancies, 13 were again tubal. In only 74 per cent of the cases was the woman able to carry her baby to term.

I am so happy to read that at last quite a few psychiatrists are beginning to listen to the sad stories of mental disease and disaster that the families of most of their psychically mixed-up patients would like to tell them. At a recent conference on "Schizophrenia and the family," sponsored by the department of psychiatry of Temple University in Philadelphia, Dr. Nathan W. Ackerman reported what most relatives of schizophrenics could have told us years ago, and this is that when the doctor is treating a schizophrenic child he might as well treat also several members of the family, because

This bit of conversation is absolutely true. I overheard it a few days ago, and I have no compunction about using it in a column. For it gives me a chance to stress one of the more hopeful aspects of the modern world. I am sure that there are many others like this unknown woman. Without such a program, they might never have thought of any of these books.

"I've had more fun," she said. "I, too, had some fun with it this morning. I hurried with the beds and dishes, threw a lot of dirty clothes into the automatic washer, and left them beating madly while I rushed down to a friend's house where there is a television set."

Being me, I was slightly late and missed the first five minutes. But I watched the rest with the greatest interest.

Admittedly, the personality, mannerisms, and earnestness of the "teacher" rather got between me and the book. I found myself swallowing when he'd, hunching my shoulders when he did, looking pedagogic and purposeful when he did, but that's only because I'm not used to television, and it affects me rather queerly!

Sunrise Semester was followed by Arthur Godfrey.

"Good grief," I said to my friend. "This under any and all the other programs, might have been the best one at its worst, isn't it?" She looked at me strangely. "Ruth, you are an innocent," she said.

But enough of this tomfoolery. I want to get my Portable Mark Twain, and see how much of Huckleberry Finn it gives. The program included one passage, very vivid, that I'd like to read again.

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

many of them are also odd and troubled and difficult. As Dr. Ackerman went on to say, a disturbed member of the patient's family, if not also helped, can easily nullify the efforts of the psychiatrist to help the patient who has been brought to him.

To my way of thinking, one of the great tragedies of psychiatric practice is to be found in the fact that often the child with a tendency to schizophrenia has to be brought up under the worst possible conditions for him, in a home that is perhaps made hellish or cold and loveless by a schizophrenic father or mother.

As Dr. Steffen Fleck, a clinical professor of psychiatry at Yale went on to say so wisely, all the members of a schizophrenic family must be studied, and the disturbed ones treated. And listen to this: According to the report of the meeting, Professor Fleck said that on studying 18 families of young upper-class schizophrenics, his associates hadn't found a single family which functioned in a usual or normal way! "If I had said this a few years ago most of the psychiatrists in the country would have wanted me tarred and feathered and ridden out of town on a rail. And this, in spite of the fact that Dr. Franz Kallmann, one of the professors of psychiatry of Columbia, for a lifetime has been describing this sort of heredity."

A miracle is happening, and it may be that the psychiatrists of this country will read now without horror the big book I have just published, "Practical Leads to Puzzling Diagnoses: Illnesses that Run Through Families" (Lippincott), in which I record the very unhappy heredities of hundreds of patients I have seen in over 1,000 families whom I have come to know well, mainly in the last 15 years. Unless the psychiatrists agree that I am the most monumental liar since Baron Munchausen, I fear they and all social workers and physicians and administrators of welfare funds, after looking through my mass of statistics, will have to agree that the main cause of chronic nervous illness and human weakness is a bad nervous heredity. The experiences of the members of my thousand families would seem to prove this thesis up to the hilt. I defy anyone to read my book, with even a half-open mind, and come away still belittling the tremendous importance of heredity in this world.

Britain Will Sell Weapons to Iraq

LONDON (AP)—Britain reported Wednesday she still is willing to sell arms to Iraq despite Premier Abdel Karim Kassem' decision to pull his country out of the Baghdad Pact.

A foreign office spokesman announced this as diplomats studied signs that Kassem still wants good relations with the Western powers.

The view here seemed to be that Kassem finally went through the formality of withdrawing from the role of inactive partner in the alliance because of twin pressures from Iraqi Communists and Gamal Abdel Nasser's Arab nationalists.

Moscow has bitterly assailed the alliance since its formation in 1955, charging that it is an aggressive grouping threatening Middle East peace. Nasser has attacked it as an imperial-ist device to split off Middle East states from his movement of Arab nationalism.

WAGING WORD WAR

Now the Arab Communists and Arab Nationalists are waging a word war, each accusing the other of trying to dominate Iraq, where Western capital has a big stake in the oil fields.

Iraq's withdrawal from the pact means it no longer is entitled to military help from the other members—Britain, Iran, Turkey and Pakistan—in the event it is attacked.

The value of 1957 mineral production was $2,134,000,000—a new high and the eleventh successive record.

Seeds in Bag Thrive Indoors

Our thanks to the gardeners who have taken time to report on their pet methods of germinating seeds indoors. It is interesting to note that the use of ploidium bags and sheet ploidium is gaining in popularity.

Jack

While several letters have pointed out that sheet glass covers for seed boxes are not readily available in every home, most writers have stressed the danger of using glass when there are toddlers around.

Another feature is that seed boxes wrapped in ploidium, or pots dropped in ploidium bags with a rubber band to close the opening, require no further attention until germination is complete.

The covering must be made as airtight as possible to prevent evaporation and loss of heat, and this excludes the use of bags having ventilation holes. Sufficient air seems to penetrate the film.

The procedure with ploidium is the same as explained in this column for the rooting of cuttings.

HEATING PLANTS

Many ingenious methods of adapting sources of steady heat have come to light, the heat source common to most homes being the uninsulated hot water tank connected to the furnace or kitchen range.

Shelves in cupboards built around the tank, temporary shelves over the tank, and hanging the boxes or pots from the arms of a metal clothes drier attached to the tank are some of the methods which are giving good results.

Others use a sheet of galvanized iron over a hot water radiator, an electric light globe in a ventilated square biscuit tin, and at least two have set up thermostatically-controlled electric heating devices.

All of which shows that when a gardener wants to garden, he becomes a resourceful and determined creature, not to be turned from his ob-

Quiet Trading Seen At Toronto, N.Y.

Under quiet trading the Toronto market recovered some of its lows of the session during the mid-afternoon.

Only two speculators were active. Can-Erin dipped 7 cents at $1.50 while Chesterfield advanced 2 cents at 42.

The New York market sank lower in quiet trading as profits were taken on some recent gains.

Du Pont was off about 4 and U.S. Gypsum more than 2. Losses of around a point were taken by Atlantic Coast Line, Jones and Laughlin, Goodyear, American Telephone and Merck.

AT TORONTO, among industrialists Great West Saddle and Tip Top Tailors each added more than 3 points while General Development dipped 3% at 61%.

Senior mines, with the exception of Falconbridge, were fractions easier in base metals. Falconbridge lost 3% at 29 but Quebec lost 13%.

In golds Giant Yellowknife added 20 cents at $6.60.

Western oils strengthened as Canadian Husky and Home B each added 1/2 and Pacific Petroleum and Pembina erased their early losses. Calgary and Edmonton, however, remained off 1/2 at 29 1/2.

AT MONTREAL prices remained about mixed on the stock exchange today. Trading continued active.

AT NEW YORK Canadian Pacific gained 1/4 and International Nickel 1. Dome Mines lost 1/4. Walker Gooderham and Aluminum Ltd., Distillers Searams and Hudson Bay Mining 1/2 each.

On the American stock exchange Eureka and Preston East Dome were up 1/16. Brazilian Traction lost 1/4. Scurry Rainbow Oil 1/4. Shawinigan and Jupiter Oils and Sapphires Petroleum 1/16 each.

AT LONDON the stock market was mixed today. Steel shares opened firm but later reacted and turned dull following the results of a byelection in which Labor increased its majority. Motor shares were selectively better but tobacco remained dull.

Gold shares opened firm but in the absence of any sustained demand turned mixed. Oil shares were firm but losses predominated among dollar stocks.

AT VANCOUVER moderate trading saw little change in prices during the forenoon. Peace River Pete moved 12,000 at 61. Bethlehem Copper traded 3,200 at $17.1. Mid-West Copper sold 12,300 at $17. Creek traded 5,200 at $17. Quatsino moved 5,000 at 18.

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP)—Most activity on the Winnipeg grain exchange today was in flax where general buying developed early in the trade, including fair purchases for export account.

Export inquiry for flax was reported from several continental countries, and it was indicated business may be developed with East Germany.

Lakehead prices for Class Two, IWA and domestic wheat were up 1/4 cent from Wednesday.

Floral Park Going Ahead

Saanich has cleared the way for the mass planting of rhododendrons and flowering shrubs in the municipality's first ornamental park.

It authorized its parks supervisor Bert Richman today to prepare beds for planting of some $5,000 worth of plant material in Playfair park situated in the Tattersall area east of Quadra Street.

A planting bee will be held in two weeks.

The shrubs have been donated by Island nurserymen. The park development scheme is being promoted by the Victoria Arboretum Society. It plans to plant some 6,000 rhododendrons in the 8½-acre park within the next five years.

Mr. Richman said a crew will start working on the plant beds immediately.

The plants will be watered this year by a surface sprinkling system which will eventually be placed underground.

J. E. Underhill, an official of the Arboretum Society, said future plans include two or three ornamental pools and some extensive landscaping in the rocky portion of the park.

"It will take about five years to make the park a show place," he said.

ROD BAYLES

Drivers Hit for Ignoring Siren

Lack of courtesy and in many cases complete ignorance of motorists for the warnings of an emergency vehicle were deplored by Langford fire chief Rod Bayles after two accidents involving Langford ambulance Sunday.

About $1,000 damage was done to the volunteer department's ambulance when it was in collision with two cars at city intersections as it carried injured people to hospital following Malahat highway crackups.

Both accidents involving the ambulance occurred within 1½ hours of each other and marked the first collisions in the department's seven-year-old ambulance service.

Fire chief Bayles said he was highly annoyed at the "utter lack of courtesy and consideration" of motorists who failed to observe the warning of an emergency vehicle.

He said the ambulance, third vehicle since inception of the service, was recently equipped with the biggest automotive siren and red light flasher it is possible to buy.

IN THE WAY

The first accident was at Burnside and Douglas where two cars apparently failed to yield the right of way to the oncoming ambulance and in attempting to avoid a collision the ambulance swerved and lightly scraped one of the cars.

The second crash was at Douglas and Caledonia where a car driven by Leonard R. J. [Name partially obscured] was proceeding in the same direction as the ambulance and as the latter attempted to overtake the car, Sam tried to turn left onto Caledonia, sideswiping the ambulance and forcing it into a cluster lamp standard.

A seriously injured patient was one of two stretcher cases in the ambulance and an oxygen line feeding the patient was severed in the crash.

Chief Bayles said there seems to be a lack of stress that all vehicles must yield to an emergency vehicle. The Motor Vehicles Act required that autos must pull to the side of the road and stop until the emergency vehicle is past.

Responsibility for impressing this fact lies with licensing authorities, the chief feels.

HOW YOUR LIVER BILE BREAKS DOWN FAT

Laboratory tests have now proved that liver bile emulsifies fat... actually breaks it down. It is an established medical fact that when liver bile is added to fatty solids, the fat is broken down and forms a smooth, easy-flowing mix.

In your body, previous liver bile helps break down fat the same way. Many foods reach the digestive tract as undigested lumps. Liver bile then helps break down this fat... unlocks it... for easier and more complete digestion.

Carter's Little Liver Pills exclusive formula of natural, vegetable ingredients relieves irregularity gently and effectively. At the same time, it actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fat in your body.

So, when you feel sluggish, headachy, nervous and need a laxative, get Carter's Little Liver Pills. Remember, Carter's Little Liver Pills actually improve the flow of liver bile needed to break down fat. Only 43¢.

Buttle Power Spending 'Incredible' Says Shrum

Amazement at the high cost of clearing land at Buttle Lake in connection with the B.C. Power Commission power development there was expressed at the Shrum Royal Commission Wednesday both by the chairman and a high B.C.P.C. official.

Cost of clearing 7,969 acres along the lake shore to a point above the new high water line to be set by the Upper Campbell dam was revealed as more than $13,000,000, or up to $2,125 per acre.

Dr. Gordon Shrum, chairman of the commission, termed the cost "incredible." Over-expenditures on 20 power commission projects are to be studied by the inquiry.

R. C. McMordie, acting chief engineer for the power commission, said his first impression of clearing costs on coming to B.C. from the Ontario Hydro Commission was that they were "fantastic."

Harold Barnett, vice-president of H. G. Acres & Sons, consulting engineers on the Strathcona project, said clearing costs in Ontario and Quebec rarely exceeded $200 per acre.

BITTER OPPOSITION

Construction of the Upper Campbell dam by the power commission, which raised the high water mark in Buttle Lake by 19 feet, was fought bitterly by conservationists, and that the power commission was allowed to build the dam only in the face of the most stringent conditions, set by the provincial water controller.

They stipulated that the shoreline should be cleared and all trees felled to a point above high water, that all exposed stumps be grubbed-out at higher shore levels and cut off at ground level lower down, and that all refuse be burned.

As a result, the shore for the full length of the 26 miles of lake within Strathcona Park is clear, clean, and considered a model for this type of development.

$16,000,000 EXTRA

Total cost of the Strathcona project was $35,000,000, or $16,000,000 higher than the estimated cost of $19,000,000. Net cost of clearing land, after deducting the $5,000,000 gained through sale of timber, was almost $8,000,000, or $1,489,830 more than estimated.

Another excess cost — $1,233,000, arose through failure of a water conduit June 21, 1957.

Mr. Barnett said it was caused when required steel pipe became unavailable, and the engineers substituted a concrete conduit with thin steel liner. It was the liner that was torn loose, causing damage to the conduit.

Road building cost $1,153,551 over the original estimate of $5,292,930, and was required for access.

Mr. McMordie actually doubted the worth of the shore clearing at the lake, claiming that draining of the B.C. Electric reservoir at Alouette Lake after 30 years showed erosion had left stumps standing on the skeletons of their root systems.

"VALUELESS"

"Close cutting here would have been valueless," he said. "The presence of old roots had undoubtedly slowed up erosion of banks. It is therefore considered that such special treatment as grubbing and close cutting of timber between high and low water level should not be attempted until some years after the initial filling of the reservoir."

Dr. Shrum asked Mr. Barnett if he had any suggestions to avert over-expenditures such as occurred at Strathcona.

"Yes, I do," Mr. Barnett said. "The owner, if necessary, should take a year to assemble all the information necessary before the final drawings are made. But no."

STILL PLENTY OF ROOM ON COACH-FERRY RUN

While Easter travel bookings between Vancouver Island and the mainland are the heaviest in years this does not mean last-minute travellers will be unable to make the journey, Conway Parrott, of Vancouver Island Coach Lines said today.

Coach lines stepped up its direct bus service to Vancouver via Nanaimo after the CPR pulled off the night boats.

"We have 600 bookings both ways already," Mr. Parrott said, "but we are in a position to handle all travel offering."

At a premium for the weekend is car space on the ferries. CPR boats are almost solidly booked. Black Ball ferries does not make reservations, but predicted bumper to bumper traffic for its ships.

Evacuation Decision Later

By VICTOR J. MACKIE

Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA—A decision as to whether the new civilian defence setup will be geared around a policy of mass evacuation of cities or shelters for heavily populated areas, is one that has not yet been made by the government.

"Even with the advent of the nuclear bomb, with some warning, evacuation might be possible in certain areas. On the other hand shelters might be the answer. These are policy matters to be studied by the civil defence policy committee of the cabinet," Hon. J. Waldo Monteith, told the Times today.

The question of policy will be discussed with the provincial ministers when they meet with the federal government, said Mr. Monteith.

Meeting will be held after Prime Minister John Diefenbaker writes to provincial premiers setting forth the new federal proposals.

Just in Case

Remembering their pugilistic roles in brawling windup of Western Hockey League schedule at Seattle last Sunday, four members of Victoria Cougars consider possible equipment for playoff series with Totems. They hope to stick to hockey, but plan to be ready for anything. Forward Al Nicholson (16) believes he has right combination—boxing gloves and goaltender's stick—and has approval of defenceman Jim Hay (left), Ted Harris and Don McLeod (right). All four swapped punches with Totems, may have scores to settle when series opens Friday at Seattle. Second game is at Memorial Arena Saturday night. (Times photo by Bill Halkett.)

JAPANESE TOUR 'WONDERFUL'

Dave Didn't Leave Adjectives in Japan!

By GRAHAM COX

"It was out of this world," were the first words of Lt. Cmdr Dave Mackenzie in describing the month-long tour of Japan by a 23-man British Columbia all-star English rugby team.

"The games were wonderful and exciting, our receptions everywhere were grand, and the fans were marvelous."

The team played to an average of 10,000 fans during the eight-game tour "and we were told that some three or four million viewers watched us on television," added Mackenzie, who travelled as team manager.

The all-stars, made up of 20 players from the Vancouver Rugby Union, and three from Victoria, won five, tied two and lost one.

Early in the series they played to a 3-3 tie with Yawata Steelers.

"This was the surprise of the tour," said the manager.

"We were told that they would be our weakest opposition and arranged our team on this basis. They surprised everybody, including the Japanese experts, by being tough and ready. They were definitely up and, all in all, it was a terrific contest."

The three Victoria players—

Don Burgess, Chris Pollard and Peter Clarke—acquired themselves excellently throughout.

"Burgess was our top scorer, next to Ted Hunt who was quite fabulous. Don kicked well and his tackling at fullback was one of the great factors in our early victories."

Mackenzie was also full of praise for Clarke and Pollard, although the latter was used sparingly in one or two of the contests because he was "too large to match the tiny Japanese forwards."

"We found out that size didn't mean as much as mobility and agility against the

"Their backs were tremendously fast and there were a couple of wings and a scrum-half that would have done justice to almost any international team. If we can arrange a C-nadian tour for a Japanese all-star team, it would be a real treat for B.C. fans."

Talks were held while the team was in the Orient concerning a return trip by the Japanese, and Mackenzie returned with tentative dates for 1961 or 1962. A Japanese team last visited B.C. in 1930, 25 years before the first B.C. team toured Japan.

"We were thrilled when people stopped us on the streets and mentioned not only our own games, but those of the previous B.C. team. It was eye-opening to learn how highly they had been regarded there."

"Our only complaint was the weather. Apparently we had taken our own March weather along with us."

"I was very proud of the boys, both on and off the field. The Canadian ambassador (W. F. Bull) even went so far as to dub us his '26 deputies.' It was a wonderful tour," he concluded.

Talk Very Cheap, Arch Takes Cash

Moore's Signing Sports Surprise; Bout on July 15

MONTREAL (UPI) — Archie Moore, tired of conversational million-dollar gates, Wednesday signed for $250,000 worth of cold cash to meet Canada's Yvon Durelle July 15 in a return world light-heavyweight title bout.

The fight, jointly sponsored by president Truman Gibson and his National Boxing Enterprises and Montreal promoter Eddie Quinn, will be held at either the Montreal Forum or the Montreal Royals baseball park.

Moore is holding out for the ball park," Quinn said, "mainly because he turned down a Yankee Stadium fight with Sugar Ray Robinson. But we definitely want it at the Forum and we're going to do everything we can to hold it indoors."

IT WAS GOOD

Moore and Durelle last fought Dec. 10 at the Forum for the 175-pound title. Despite the fact that Moore was a 6-1 favorite, the continent-wide televised bout was acclaimed as the "fight of the year."

Durelle had Moore on the deck four times in the first five rounds before the aging champion made one of the great comebacks of recent fighting history to kayo the fighting fisherman at 49 of the 11th round.

The signing, coming right in the middle of Stanley Cup hockey time in Montreal, caught everyone by surprise. Moore reportedly has been ready to sign for a July title fight against middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson, and the prospects of a return go between Moore and Durelle appeared more and more remote.

Gibson called the signing "a major move by the NBE." He insisted that the signing didn't mean the NBE had given up trying to match Moore and Robinson, either, but said a Moore win over Durelle "would make a Moore-Robinson fight even more attractive."

And Gibson made it plain he thinks the NBE would be the outfit that would land Moore-Robinson, too.

"There are about 18 guys trying to promote that fight," Gibson said, "but most of them haven't got a nickel."

Archie knows that Norris has the money on the line."

In New York, Robinson had obtained a promise of $600,000 guarantee from promoter Bill Rosenzohn for a proposed bout with Moore with the latter's title at stake. The two fighters would have split the guarantee down the middle, Robinson said Wednesday that Moore had a right to fight anyone he wanted to meet.

"He can fight whoever he wants," Robinson said. "I'll find someone else to fight."

Bathgate Tells Doctor to Try

Someone Else

NEW YORK (AP) — Andy Bathgate, star right winger of New York Rangers, of the National Hockey League, decided Wednesday against another knee operation.

The Winnipeg native was to have undergone surgery on his right knee next week but called it off after a conference with Gen. John Reed Kirkpatrick, president, and Muzz Patrick, general manager, of the Rangers.

Bathgate said the knee, injured again in Toronto six weeks ago, did not bother him appreciably toward the end of the season. He wound up third in the league scoring race with 88 points.

Nats Square Hoop Playoff

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The suburban Syracuse Nationals fought to a 119-107 victory over the Boston Celtics Wednesday night and evened the Eastern division playoffs in the National Basketball Association at two games each.

The Nats, sparked by big Dolph Schayes, Bob Hopkins and Larry Costello, surged in the final period after the Celtics repeatedly had chopped away Syracuse leads in the early going.

The best of seven series shifts to Boston Saturday where the Celtics twice scored by heavy margins. The teams then play in Syracuse Sunday. The winner of the series will face the Western division victor for the NBA championship. St. Louis leads Minneapolis, 2-1 with the fourth game tonight.

Fivepin Roll-Offs

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Western Canadian fivepin bowling championships open here Good Friday.

The western winners enter the Canadian final, also scheduled for Vancouver, Monday.

GEOFFRION READY?

Lumley Wishes To Prove Point

Boston Bruins were banking on another fine job from goalie Harry Lumley and the Montreal Canadiens were hoping for the return of Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion tonight when they try to take commanding 2-0 leads in the semi-final round of the Stanley Cup hockey playoffs.

Lumley, who turned in one stop for each of his 32 birth-days in pacing Boston to a streak-busting 5-1 win over Toronto in Tuesday's opening at Boston, was all set for another big effort in the same arena.

Geoffrion, out since Feb. 25 with strained stomach muscles, was reported a possible starter for the Canadiens at Montreal as they hope to repeat their opening 4-2 win over Chicago Black Hawks.

"If Geoffrion tells me he's ready, you can bet I'll find a spot for him," said Montreal coach Toe Blake.

Geoffrion's return would be just one more headache for the Hawks, who were so busy dodging Jean Beliveau and Dickie Moore in the opener that the usually light-scoring Marcel Bonin tallied two goals that proved the difference.

Hawks' coach Rudy Pilous presented each of his players with a "Stanley Cup," in Wednesday's workout—a tiny toy manufactured as part of a child's hockey game.

"I figure that if they get a look at this thing, maybe they'll have a better idea of what it's all about," said Pilous with a twinkle in his eye.

Lumley insists that he's not taking out any grudge on the Leafs just because they traded him away three years ago, pointing out, "I've been with so many clubs that I enjoy beating them all." But, he said, he does have a special mission in these playoffs.

"I just want to prove I'm still a big league goalie," he said.

Irate Bears Rout Chair-Tossing Fan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Buffalo Bisons and Hershey Bears gained victories Wednesday night in the opening games of the American Hockey League's Calder Cup semifinals.

A severe injury to Rochester defenceman Murray Balfour and a brawl between players and Cleveland fans marked the openers.

Balfour was injured as he hit his head on the ice when checked by Ivan Irwin at Buffalo. He suffered a concussion and a lacerated lip but his condition was reported good. Buffalo won 3-2.

In Cleveland, Hershey emerged from a long slump to down the Barons 6-2. Scuffling started when a fan threw a chair on the ice in front of the Hershey bench in the last period. The Bears ripped down the screen behind the bench and charged into the crowd with their sticks poised.

The fans took to their heels, but Hershey defenceman Howie Janosik wound up with a cut on the head.

"The person who threw the chair never will see another Baron game if we can prevent it," said Cleveland manager Jim Hendy.

The Bears, who hadn't won

In the last 10 regular-season games, scored two goals in each period.

Oble O'Brien had two goals, and Arnold Kullman, Dunc Fisher, Ed Stankiewicz and Larry Zeidel singles. Spider Mazur and Jack Barlow counted for Cleveland.

Jerry Foley scored two goals, including the winner for Buffalo. Billy Dea opened the scoring for the Bisons. Cecil Hoekstra and Rudy Migay were the Americans' marksmen.

ST. PETERSBURG—Gabe Paul, Cincinnati general manager, never intended to trade Gus Bell for Vinegar Bend Mizell, the left-handed St. Louis pitcher, who won eight and lost 11 last year, despite the published rumors. The big reason why the deal can't be made is Terry Brennan, who has been supervising the Reds' callisthenics.

FRED HUTCHINSON

"Since Bell hurt his foot," explained Paul, "he was running on his heels. This slowed him down. But Brennan has brought him up off his heels and has him running on his toes again. We've had the stopwatch on Gus and he's running as fast as he ever did. Brennan deserves all the credit for this."

No matter what the stopwatch reveals, it is doubtful if Paul would hold onto Bell if St. Louis offered him Larry Jackson as ransom.

Normally a light hitter, Rocky Bridges was batting close to .300 last year for Washington before his jaw was broken by a pitched ball.

"I was hitting under great pressure," the shortstop, now with Detroit, said. "I thought any minute Congress was going to investigate my average. I'll bet I broke up a lot of happy marriages in the American League last year. Can you imagine anything more humiliating than me getting a couple of base hits in one game? Many a pitcher who never said boo to his wife went home and beat their wives for the first time after I had a good day."

Bridges claims he is a regular on the All-Ugly team. Last season, a reporter asked Bridges what was the team's big asset. The infielder pointed to Steve Koehk and Clint Courtney, who have never been asked to enter the Mr. America contest.

"We outguy them," he said.

He was hit by a thrown ball by Tom Gorman in Kansas City before Frank Lary shattered his face. He lay in a daze at the plate. George Lenz, the trainer, believed he was seriously hurt.

"Talk to me?" pleaded Lenz.

Bridges stirred and slowly raised his head. "George," he asked, "will this spoil my movie career?"

Bridges, who plays ball with a wild passion, can't understand guys who don't put out.

"I work all winter with a pick and shovel on a construction gang," he said. "Do that for a couple of months and you'll realize how wonderful baseball is. Any job's a good one when you don't have to punch a clock."

At Least Hutch Isn't a 'Yes Man'

Gussy Busch, who owns the Cardinals, wondered why Freddy Hutchinson, then his manager, didn't play Tom Alston, who was paid a $125,000 bonus, at first. He used Joe Cunningham, instead.

"Listen to the way the people applaud him," said the owner.

"If you want a clown, get a good one," raged Hutch. "Hire Emmett Kelly."

The manager stormed out of the office. Frank Lane, now the Cleveland general manager, but then the Cardinal boss, tried to placate Busch.

"A guy like Hutch should be worth a million dollars to you," said Lane.

"Why?" asked Busch, astonished and furious.

"He don't yes you," said Lane.

It annoyed Lane because Busch and some of the executives of the brewery he runs put on uniforms and worked out with the team.

"You're too smart a man to have people poking fun at you," said Lane.

"Whose poking fun?" asked Busch.

"Don't you hear those people laughing when you work out," said Lane.

Busch didn't turn out in uniform after that. And Lane is in Cleveland.

The Dodgers might have had Herb Score, who signed with Cleveland for $65,000, for $25,000. The pitcher, then going to Lake Wales High, pitched for his school team against Vero Beach High on the Dodger grounds in Vero Beach. The entire scouting staff of the organization watched him pitch. Afterward, they assembled in a room and Fresno Thompson asked them to vote whether he was worth $25,000. They decided he wouldn't do.

'LUCKY' WINNER DIES

Pool Prize Too Much For Nervous Italian

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (UPI) — A 49-year-old Italian who shared a $366,000 soccer-pool prize 11 days ago died today, a victim of the nervous tension caused by his unexpected fortune.

Romeo Giacin died in a hospital where his wife, Rosalia, is being treated for a "severe nervous disorder" which may have been a result of her husband's boomeranging good fortune.

But Roberto Caldart, the surveyor who was Giacin's partner in the big win, has not suffered any bad effects.

The two men won the biggest prize ever paid by an Italian soccer pool by predicting the outcome of 13 games—a number that turned out to be unlucky for Giacin.

Lansdowne Packs Impressive Record

By GRAHAM COX

Lansdowne Junior High Flyers will pack an impressive record in their travelling kit when they journey to Cumberland Friday for the inaugural Island Junior High School basketball tournament.

Lansdowne may already claim the "uncrowned Island champions" title, having beaten Woodlands when the Nanaimo school held the Upper Island title last season.

Flyers have played three seasons without tasting defeat against either city or Lower Island junior high competition.

One of the major reasons for Flyers' fine record is the unusual size of their starting and reserve forward lines.

Mrs. G. Coxworth Wins Darcus Cup

Uplands Golf Club staged women's medal rounds for two trophies Tuesday. One was an 18-hole match for the Rev. W. G. Wilson Trophy and the other the final of the 54-hole Darcus Cup event.

Mrs. K. S. Lawson became the first winner of the newly-donated Rev. Wilson award, carding an 80-7-73. Mrs. M. J. Whyte scored 92-17-75.

Mrs. G. Coxworth completed the three 18-hole Darcus Cup rounds in 224 to capture top honors. Second place went to Mrs. G. R. Ford with a 236 total.

For $75,000, London Willing to Take Chance

BLACKPOOL, England (AP)—Britain's biggest boxing row in years flared today with a British heavyweight hurling defiance at officials who forbade him to fight heavyweight king Floyd Patterson of the United States.

The British Board of Boxing Control banned Brian London from meeting Patterson for the world title in Las Vegas, Nev., April 21. It said the bout would not be in the best interests of British boxing.

London said he will go ahead with the fight.

"I've got a big pay day coming," he said.

The board of control said London probably will lose his licence to fight in Britain if he defies the order.

"It is now up to American authorities to decide whether they will permit an unauthorized British boxer to fight Patterson," said the board president, J. Onslow Fane.

United States boxing officials appeared ready to go along with London, although their statements were cautious.

Dr. Ward Wylie, president of the National Boxing Association, said: "The NBA will recognize any logical contender."

Abe Greene, national boxing commissioner, said: "We have a very friendly arrangement and understanding with the BBBC but we would want to know more about the circumstances which would prompt such a pre-emptory stand before we would occur. . . . We shall await further developments."

Curlers are also reminded that several sheets will be available on that date for challenge games. Anyone wishing ice time is asked to list their name on the bulletin board at the curling club.

Following is Saturday's draw:

27 TEAMS

Naylor and Garner specifically handle the representative group, but all four coaches have a hand in training the 27 basketball teams active within the 970-student school.

Both coaches feel that, although Tsolum is reigning as Upper Island champion and seeded number one in their division, most of their trouble will come from Alberni, where Elmer Matthews, one of the top players produced in Victoria, handles coaching.

UNIQUE SYSTEM

Intensely interested in their players scholastically as well as athletically, the coaches have worked out a novel training schedule.

With court-time during the days limited, they have initiated two-hour evening sessions. The first hour is devoted to supervised school study and the second hour devoted to basketball.

Two other Victoria teams, from Central and Belmont Junior High Schools, will also compete in the event Friday and Saturday.

Drunk Driver Blood Tests Get Tryout by City Police

NOBODY HURT—But a wreck of a crash rolled this car down Pendergast Street at 5.15 p.m. Wednesday. Car collided with station wagon at Vancouver and Pendergast, ran down the street and flipped over.

Suspected impaired drivers picked up by Victoria city police will for the first time have the opportunity to submit to a blood-alcohol test, police commissioners decided Wednesday.

The system—which provides positive medical evidence of the amount of alcohol contained in a drinker's blood—will be brought into operation on a trial basis, on recommendation of city solicitor and prosecutor T. P. O'Grady.

It will not be a routine test, however. Commissioner William Hamilton made the motion for adoption to take blood samples where it is advisable in the opinion of a medical adviser.

KKK Minister Jailed For Inciting Riot

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—The North Carolina Supreme Court ruled Wednesday that Rev. James W. Cole, Ku Klux Klan leader, must serve a two-year prison term for inciting an Indian riot last year.

"Anyone who is under the influence of alcohol is a menace on the road and to himself," Mr. Hamilton said.

He thought the commission had delayed the matter long enough.

Chief Constable John Blackstock said he preferred to wait a while to examine the probable costs involved and determine what the continuity of such evidence would entail.

Mr. O'Grady pointed out it would be a matter of the individual case to determine when the test should be used. "I think we should go ahead and try it," Mr. Hamilton said.

"If the results are unsatisfactory we can always abandon it," Mayor Percy Scurrah added.

Suggestion originally came from Dr. E. L. McNiven, who often acts as a Crown witness in sobriety evidence. Past blood-alcohol figures have been estimates only.

LAWYER'S STORY TO DETECTIVE

'Two Strangers' Signed Fathers' Consent to Wed

A Victoria lawyer accused of forging two signatures on a form required in connection with a marriage licence claimed "two men, both total strangers" came into his office and signed the form, an Assize Court jury was told Wednesday.

The allegation by city Det. Raymond Maitland came late in the first day of the trial of E. V. Finland, 948 Old Esquimaux, on charges of forgery and uttering forged documents.

He is charged with forging names of two parents on forms giving parents' consent to the marriage of under-age children.

Prosecutor David Williams said the case arose when Patricia Langton, 16, 2638 Forbes, and Birke Edward Brookbank, 20, 2903 Shakespeare, sought their parents' permission to marry last January.

At that time Patricia's father, Robert Norman Langton, was at sea with HMCS Fraser, while Birke's father, William J. E. Brookbank, was in the U.S.

The two mothers—Marjorie Edna Langton and Eihel Brookbank—decided to seek a court order permitting the marriage to take place in the fathers' absence, and went to Finland for guidance.

FATHERS' NAMES

They said Finland produced two forms, filled out the top four lines and had the women sign their names on the documents, himself signing as witness.

The forms were routine parental consent forms returnable to the department of vital statistics for a marriage licence.

Finland is alleged to have filled in the names of the fathers on the forms, as a result of which the marriage licence was issued.

Later the issuer of marriage licence became "suspicious" and the police were called in.

Det. Maitland said he and Det. Richard Barry questioned Finland about the signatures purporting to be those of the fathers of the young couple, and he told them "two men, both total strangers," had come into his office in the Yarrow Building and signed the forms.

CAME TO OFFICE

"Mr. Finland said one man represented himself to be from the navy and produced papers to prove he was Mr. Langton. He said another man also came into his office and identified himself as Mr. Brookbank."

The detective said Finland declined to make a statement about the matter.

Earlier, John Doughty, director of vital statistics, testified that Finland told him the "story that the two fathers were out of town was something concocted by the two mothers" to prevent their husbands knowing the marriage was to take place.

Mr. Doughty said he became "suspicious" and asked a member of his department to check

Trailer Boat Boom Hits City

More and more the trailer-borne outboard boat is dominating Victoria waters, and there seems to be no letup in its exploding popularity.

Sales outlets have multiplied a dozen times in the last few years. Used car lots, garages, and even vacant lots are beginning to sport gleaming little craft which stop the gawky with their shimmering curves and promise of gay abandon.

It makes one wonder exactly when the change took place, and people who never before had even known there was water nearby suddenly began to notice boats.

Possibly it was when the vendors came to the conclusion that a boat being sold complete with outboard motor and trailer need not be hidden away on the waterfront.

Instead, it could be displayed right beside the highway, right on the city's busiest thoroughfare, and right in the heart of the shopping district. Once boat dealers were freed of that bondage to the water, they began to display their wares and landlubbers began to buy.

A Yen for the Wide Blue Water

Thank the trim little trailer for the whole change-around in the marine field. There have been trim runabouts and neat, fast, reliable outboards for years, but it was not until they were matched up with light, nimble trailers designed just for them, with rollers and winches, that everyone began to yearn for the wide blue water.

A large proportion of these boats are plastic, and therefore need no need for painting, astounding resistance to hard and rough usage, permanent colors, and just about everything else desirable in a boat, to be used on salt water. Wood continues to hold its own, though, and one of the most interesting uses is in the construction of the molded plywood craft. In most plans, the main job of placing thin strips of mahogany or birch over a form known as the mandrel, which is the same size and shape of the boat to be made from it.

Very Strong

The wood strips, as they are placed on the mandrel, are held in place by tiny metal staples. As a layer of veneer is completed, it is coated with waterproof glue and the next layer started. The grain in each layer is placed at about right angles to that of the preceding layer. This criss-crossing of the grain is the reason for the unusual stiffness and

Manitoba Secreds Will Only Get 'Moral Support'

WINNIPEG (CP) — The Manitoba Social Credit League announced Wednesday it is withholding province-wide political action but will give "moral support" to candidates entered in elections by constituency associations.

W. J. Tinkler, president, said this stand was reaffirmed at a recent meeting of the league board in Brandon. He said the board continued work on a province-wide long-range organizational campaign.

In the 1958 Manitoba provincial general election Social Credit candidates contested 13 of the 57 seats. None was elected.

New Bridge Project Soon For Courtenay

COURTENAY—Tenders for a new bridge over Courtenay River will be called early in April, according to Dan Campbell, Comox MLA.

Cost of the bridge is expected to be about $300,000. It will take from six to eight months to build.

The new structure will replace a narrow wooden bridge which was declared by the community as obsolete 20 years ago.

The new bridge will carry an 18-inch water main and will have straight approaches. The present bridge has angled approaches.

4-Day Dredging

NANAIMO — The federal public works department dredge, Fruhling, will be at work here daily from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., from April 1 to 7, between the two assembly wharves, the transport department announced today.

After that time it will work until May 31 in the vicinity of the temporary lighted buoy in Meakin Channel, inside Nanaimo Harbor.

BID FOR COMPETITION

B.C. Air Lines 'Can't Handle It'

CAMPBELL RIVER (CP) — B.C. Air Lines' service in the upper Vancouver Island area is inadequate to cope with freight and passenger demands, Air Transport Board Examiner George R. Younger, was told Wednesday.

The statements came from witnesses at a public hearing into the application of Robert Langdon, former general manager of the air line, for a commercial licence to operate a rival service, Island Airlines.

The hearing concluded at 9 p.m. Submissions will be reviewed in Ottawa, Mr. Younger said. Logging operator Walter Spentz, Vancouver, connected with 34 logging outfits, complained of a delay in delivery of spare parts for logging machinery by BCAL.

Mrs. Mary McMillan, part-owner of Glenlivet Logging at Whaletown, agreed. She said the delays kept loggers idle, although they still had to be paid.

Mrs. Ann Grant, public health nurse for School District 72, said single-passenger planes were unavailable under the present system and planes were not always available to fly her out on duty flights.

Mr. Langdon proposes a 28 cents a mile single passenger service against the 43 cents a mile minimum two-passenger rate charged by BCAL.

He said at the hearing he decided to operate for himself when he saw that BCAL could not handle all the passenger traffic, and that the federal government had announced C4 licences would be granted freely.

He complained that such licences had been granted in Alert Bay and Vancouver, where B.C. Air Lines has operations, but that at Campbell River it was decided an ATB hearing should be held on his application.

VILLAGE IN FAVOR

A. D. Corker, representing the village commission, said the commission is in favor of a competing air line, which is warranted by the growing population of the area. It also will help to make up for the lack of boat service to northern points, he said.

Mrs. Evelyn Crum, a former dispatcher for BCAL, said passengers often were sent away by the company at peak periods because aircraft were not available.

3 Injured as Car Plunges 200 Feet

A Parksville mother and her three children narrowly escaped death Wednesday when a car fell which they were riding went out of control and plunged down a 200-foot embankment at West Vancouver.

In fairly good condition in hospital at Vancouver are Mrs. Ethel McKeith, 40, and her son, David, 16. Seven-year-old twins, Hugh and Joy, are in good condition.

Mrs. McKeith suffered neck and arm injuries; David, possible back injuries, and the twins, shock.

Police and firemen rescued the mother and children from the base of the embankment.

Police said the car apparently struck a gravel shoulder, shot across the highway, jumped a cement curb, and plunged down the bank.

It is estimated that in 1958 Canada will produce over $225,000,000 worth of uranium.

years ago, is working on a style manual designed to smooth the unruly syntax of the civil service, eliminate jargon and improve spelling.

The bulky red volume is likely to be available in November, replacing one published 20 years ago.

The 17-chapter guide to government editors will include hints on punctuation, abbreviation, capitalization, headings, reference matter and graphic presentation.

Hyphens, always a happy hunting ground for purists, get a whole chapter.

Ready for the printers is a section on grammar and spelling, prepared by John C. Outram of the defence department. He cites as "pure jargon" this sample sentence: "The position in regard to this whole thing is that active consideration cannot be given to it until present conditions change and the matter can be settled in due course."

Bidding to lift the bureaucratic blight, Mr. Outram bears down on "ugly and unwieldy" nouns such as substitutability, expansibility, per-formability and frustratability, "extraordinary" verbs such as diarise and routineise and "indiscriminate" adverb forms such as weatherwise, financial-wise and healthwise.

Basically, the manual aims at simple, straightforward writing. Civil servants will be urged to say "while" instead of "during the course of," and just plain "for" instead of "for the purpose of."

Committee chief is J. Stuart McGiffin of the agriculture department.

The Canadian campaign against clichés recalls the work of Sir Ernest Gowers, former United Kingdom civil servant whose Plain Words is a standard work.

In the U.K. war on wordy writing, one authority speculated that Winston Churchill's wartime message, "Give us the tools and we will finish the job," might have been rendered by a bureaucrat in these words:

"Donate us the implements and we will finalize the assignment."

The museum has been closed for two months during extensive renovations to the main building, and preparation of a second building.

All rooms have been renovated and the exhibits rearranged. In the main building are the explorer's room, the Nelson room, the Esquimalt room, the Sutcliffe room, the Pacific shipping room and the Royal Navy room.

All Canadian navy exhibits have been moved into the second building, which is connected with the main one by a covered ramp.

The museum will be open 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., daily except Mondays and Tuesdays.

The ninth annual exhibition of the work of Vancouver Island painters and sculptors will open at the Art Gallery May 5. The jury will include Gertrude Reed, assistant director of the Henry Gallery at the University of Washington at Seattle; Jack Shadbolt, Vancouver painter and teacher at the Vancouver School of Art; and J. A. S. Macdonald, painter and teacher at the University of British Columbia.

Entry forms are available at the gallery. Deadline for accepting works at the gallery is 5 p.m., April 16.

Space Cabins Tested

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dummy space capsules the size of those that someday may carry U.S. spacemen into orbit have been dropped into the ocean from high-flying planes and recovered intact.

Scientists reported today that after the capsules dropped in free fall for set distances, parachutes opened to slow their descent. The cone-like capsules weighed more than a ton.

Such a resounding ocean impact splash may be the tipoff to future spacemen that they are back to earth again.

Next step in the space research program: Development of materials to absorb the shock of landings on ground.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration today reported significant progress in four general areas: air drops, escape techniques, impact tests, and wind tunnel and flight studies of model capsules.

The early research is part of project Mercury, the program to place a man in orbit around the earth. So far, its research has provided valuable information toward developing a safe and reliable manned satellite capsule, NASA said.

Two other highlights of the progress report were: Space scientists have been experimenting on the firing of escape rockets that would permit a man to get out of a capsule high enough in the air for a parachute to open if trouble should develop soon after launching.

Wind tunnel tests are planned of a space capsule on top of a Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile.

NASA has been paring down a list of 110 potential Mercury spacemen.

220 High 'Grads' Attend Job Forum

About 220 students in Victoria High School's graduating class were given first-hand information Wednesday night on careers in which they are interested.

Some 53 representatives from 35 occupations provided individual counselling to the students during a two-hour period in the National Employment Service office on Johnson.

"It was a very successful program because each student had individual attention and counselling in the field he wants to enter," an NES spokesman said today.

Counsellors ranged from a diplomat to tradesmen. The program was a joint effort of NES, Victoria Rotary Club and school authorities.

Graduating students of Esquimalt, Mount View, Mount Douglas, Royal Oak and South

Saanich High Schools will be given similar counselling April 7.

Oak Bay Kiwanis Club also will help with a third program scheduled for April 21 when Oak Bay High School students are provided with counselling services.

The individual counselling program was launched last year by NES, school officials and service clubs.

Free breakfast will be served by the Salvation Army Easter Sunday morning at 8:30 a.m. to derelict Victorians.

Ernie Welsh, of the Harbor Lights Mission, 550 Yates, said that "as long as they come and get a ticket beforehand, they're welcome."

An estimated 80 derelicts are expected to attend the meal of sausages, eggs, fried potatoes, toast, jam, and coffee.

A short prayer meeting and sermon will follow.

"Maybe just one soul will see the light," said 58-year-old Mr. Welsh.

"There's a skid road in Victoria," he said, "even if the chief of police does deny it."

(A) "I WAS MONTY'S DOUBLE" (Capitol)—The fact that it is actually the film's star, M. E. Clifton James, who doubled for famed General (now Field Marshal) Bernard Law Montgomery during the Second World War makes this British film a thoroughly enjoyable and often exciting adventure.

Mr. James, an ex-actor, was serving with the army's accounting division when his resemblance to Montgomery is noticed by intelligence officer John Mills, who immediately relays this information to superior Cecil Parker. Together they see a way of fooling Hitler into believing that the Allied invasion will come via Africa rather than from Normandy.

if the amazing resemblance can escape detection. The entire 100 minutes of the production is well-paced and seldom lags. For what some times is lost in speed is made up for with subtle humor so one scarcely knows that the action has halted.

In brief, "I Was Monty's Double" is interesting from beginning to end and should be seen by all those who are interested in the Second World War and its many sidelights.

Vera Brittain To Speak Here Tonight

Noted British authoress and lecturer Vera Brittain in Victoria today on the last leg of a month-long lecture tour that has taken her across Canada and the U.S.

She will speak tonight on "Weapons of Peace" to Victoria's new Peace-by-Peaceful Means Society, 8 p.m. at Kirk Hall, 680 Courtney. Free tickets are available at Eaton's book department or at the door.

Miss Brittain, who has also toured Holland, Sweden, Germany, India and Pakistan in recent years, is planning a series of articles on B.C. to be written in co-operation with Canadian Pacific Railways. Among Miss Brittain's books are "Testament of Youth," "Testament of Friendship," "England's Hour," "Humiliation With Honor," five novels and two volumes of verse.

Following her talk this evening, she will attend a reception in her honor at Oak Bay Beach Hotel.

"Hooch," meaning whisky, derives from the Alaskan Indian word "hoochinoo," a drink the Indians on Sitka distilled from molasses.

Two Lives Saved in Drama Starring Jubilee, Red Cross

Quietly, without fanfare, two lives were saved in Victoria during the last two days in a Hollywood-type drama that had Royal Jubilee Hospital and the Red Cross as co-stars.

You might say they were the heroes, too.

4-Way Vaccine Gets Approval

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. government put its stamp of approval today on a newly-developed vaccine providing protection against polio, diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus.

The new vaccine will add anti-polio serum to an already-developed single shot against the other three diseases which has been in use for some time.

An official of the U.S. public health service said the government has licensed two pharmaceutical firms to produce the new four-in-one vaccine.

The curtain rose on the drama Monday when six bottles of the rare blood-type O-negative were set aside for an operation scheduled Wednesday morning.

The blood is rare enough to be precious, but the hospital authorities felt secure in having six pints for the one operation.

But then entered the villain, disaster. It came via a wood-chopping accident, when Robert Coley-Donahue, 30, of 4985 West Saanich, sliced into his foot with an axe.

Tendons were torn and blood vessels damaged. He lost a lot of blood and needed replacement. And the blood he needed was O-negative.

The hospital had no recourse but to use the carefully-stored six bottles slated for the operation the next day. That scene faded in slight panic.

It was at the Red Cross clinic on Fort St. that the second act began. There Mrs. Violet Thistle, in charge, frantically telephoned six names on her blood-donor list and asked them to come in and give.

The six persons were unique in that their blood was type O-negative. But there was nothing unique in their response—all came in to the clinic and donated a pint of the valuable fluid.

It was dispatched to the hospital and the operation took place as scheduled. It was a success.

... HERE AND THERE ... With NORMAN CRIBBENS

"Is this where the Old Victorians live?" asked an 11-year-old boy—one of the 40 children from Washington School, Eureka, California, now staying at the Empress Hotel.

Tip-toeing through the lounge several young Americans peered at the stately grandfather clock facing the entrance and asked:

Where do you wind it up?" Many wanted to meet the President of British Columbia. They are touring the Legislative Buildings today, but alas they won't see the "president."

He is vacationing in California.

"The Rotary Club owns Victoria, the Gyros run it and the Lions enjoy it." ... George Masters, chief administrator of the Royal Jubilee Hospital, addressing Gyro Club meeting.

I notice that societies regularly using Holyrood House for their meetings have private lockers in the basement ... and they are well and truly locked.

These include the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society, Burns Club, United Travellers' Association and the Optimists Club.

Phil Gagliardi, our fast-travelling highways minister, tells me he never sleeps more than six hours a night and often gets along with four.

But "Flying Phil" has the happy knack of being able to "cat-nap" whenever the opportunity arises.

Already registered for the third annual convention of the B.C. Association of Real Estate Boards at Harrison Hot Springs are more than 60 real estate agents and their wives from Victoria and Up-Island points.

Convention opens Sunday, April 12, and closes Tuesday, April 14.

More than 325 attended last year's convention in Victoria.

Girl Dies Of Crash Injuries

Inquest into the highway fatality of 17-year-old Linda Henly, 1722 Bay, will be held Tuesday at 10 a.m. at Hayward's funeral home.

The teen-aged occupant of a 1948 model car which crashed out of control and overturned on the Malahat Sunday night died at St. Joseph's Hospital Wednesday at 3:15 p.m. She never regained consciousness after receiving a head injury and a fractured leg.

Her death was the second traffic fatality in the Greater Victoria area this year.

One of six teenagers who were riding in the car when it crashed, Linda was brought to hospital by ambulance with two others. En route, the ambulance was in collision with another vehicle at Douglas and Caledonia, causing about $1,000 damage and severing an oxygen line feeding the unconscious girl.

GOOD CONDITION

Driver of the wrecked Malahat car was identified by police as Francis Gilbert, 19, of 1250 Palmer, who was treated for minor injuries and discharged from hospital.

William Champion, 18, of 31 Wellington, was later discharged after treatment, and the three other victims, Dorothy Leard, 17, of 1502 Gladstone; James McMaster, 17, of 1128 Leonard; and Bruce Whitton, 17, of 53 Wellington, are in good condition at St. Joseph's, where they are being treated for multiple injuries.

The dead girl leaves a twin sister, Marcia, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Henly. Mr. Henly is a B.C. Electric bus driver.

The twins were born in Victoria and attended St. Ann's Academy, where Linda was in her final year of studies. She was a member of Catholic Youth Organization.

BRIGGS CHARGE REFUTED AT SHRUM PROBE

Former B.C. Electric vice-president Thomas Ingledow appeared before the Shrum Royal Commission today to refute evidence against the company given by power rebel H. Lee Briggs.

Now president of B.C. Engineering and vice-president of B.C. Power Corporation, Mr. Ingledow gave testimony countering Briggs' claims of lack of co-operation by the BCE toward the power commission and other matters.

Mr. Ingledow was continuing his 19-page brief this afternoon. He was scheduled to be followed by A. H. Williamson of Wood Gundy Co. Ltd. Following today's hearings the Royal Commission will adjourn to April 1.

Drag Race Car Thieves Sent to Jail

Three Victoria teen-agers who wrecked two of three stolen cars in an early morning escapade Feb. 26 each were sentenced to jail terms when they appeared in Sooke RCMP court Wednesday.

Each pleaded guilty to three charges of car theft. They were:

Henry Robert Essler, 18, sentenced to three months in Oakalla jail; Edward Dornier, 17, sentenced to nine months definite and one year indeterminate at young offenders' unit; and Gordon Brighton, 16, sentenced to six months definite and one year indeterminate, also at young offenders' unit.

The youngsters took a car from Oak Bay, drove it beyond Sooke, where they stole another car, raced them on the Sooke Road and crashed both in a "drag" competition, then stole a third car at Sooke, after which they were stopped by police.

Two Escapees Captured Here

Two escapees from Brannan Lake Industrial School were captured Wednesday in a car which police said was stolen from Nanaimo.

They were among nine who have fled from the boys' school since last Sunday. Another escapee, Richard Bewick, 16, was transferred to open court in Nanaimo and sentenced Wednesday to 12 months definite and 18 indeterminate in Oakalla after escaping from the school last February and again Sunday.

Const. Ivan F. Purdy said he spotted the pair in a car downtown. He said looting breaks at schools in James Bay here and Harewood at Nanaimo was recovered from the car. The boys were returned to Brannan Lake, near Nanaimo.

Plan to Pay Off Mall Laid Out

A draft by-law intended to make clear the methods of repaying the $1,000,000 View Street mall and parking garage was to be introduced in city council today.

The draft specifically says the money will be used for the pedestrian mall, as well as the proposed parking garage.

It also earmarks profits from the proposed four-tier garage to be used in helping pay off the debentures.

A second draft bylaw, to be introduced, will establish a reserve fund into which all parking meter revenues will be deposited to:

1. Pay for operation of meters;
2. Siphon $106,050 annually from meter revenues into general revenue (the amount transferred to general revenue in 1958);
3. Help finance the View Street development and nine off-street parking facilities recommended in the 20-year downtown improvement plan announced last fall.

The first draft notes that despite wide publicity of city council's proposal, "certain doubts have been expressed as to the nature of the purpose" to which the $1,000,000 money bylaw passed by ratepayers last December will be put.

The draft is designed to amend the original bylaw "so as to remove such doubts and to confirm the purpose of the said borrowing."

The amendment must be approved by the provincial cabinet through an order-in-council. It will not go to the people for a vote.

A City Hall spokesman said the essential changes were: Specific mention of a pedestrian mall as part of the $1,000,000 project and earmarking of the garage's revenue for repayments.

CAN'T BE CHANGED

He added that another provision guarantees that, if the amendment is successful, future councils will not be able to make changes without the approval of the provincial cabinet.

Taken together, the two draft bylaws present this plan for repayment of the bonds:

1. Profits from the parking garage will be used first to pay installments on the debt, if sufficient;
2. Parking meter revenue exceeding $106,050 and maintenance costs will be used to make up the balance; if insufficient.

3. The difference will be raised from general revenue (the required stipulation under the Municipal Act.)

NO TAX MONEY

City council is expected to proceed with acquisition of the necessary View Street properties and to start construction as soon as the consent of the provincial cabinet is received on the new bylaws.

Later, it is expected to raise parking meter rates to build up the proposed fund so that tax money is not needed for repayment.

The draft bylaws follow a widely-publicized campaign by Victoria MLA J. Donald Smith, a defeated alderman, against the parking plan. Mr. Smith, who previously said he would take the plan to court and also produce a large petition for a second vote, has been silent for some time.

GUEST SPEAKER at Victoria Kiwanis Club 6:15 p.m. Tuesday will be Miss Elizabeth Macaulay, information officer for the B.C. division of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society. A film, "Never Surrender," will be shown. Miss Macaulay will tour Vancouver Island March 30 to April 9.

Aged Men's Home Sale Recommended

City health and welfare committee today recommended closure and sale of Mountain View Home.

The 30 aged men living in the home, at Cadboro Bay Road and Bowker, will be placed in private institutions during the next six months if city council accepts the recommendation.

Suggested closing date is Sept. 30. The building could be sold later for an estimated $30,000 to $40,000.

Funnelling the sale revenue into a special account to be used for assisting development of better accommodation for the aged, whether public or private, is proposed.

The Salvation Army and Gorge Road Hospital plan to build such accommodation; the committee was told Wednesday when the subject came up during estimates.

Shutting down the home would save the city most of the $16,700 annual operating cost.

This would offset increases in the 1959 welfare budget to be submitted by the committee to city council for consideration.

The gross welfare budget, recommended by the committee, will total $957,545 this year, an increase of $194,238.

But net increased cost to the city will total only $7,800 because the provincial government pays 90 per cent of welfare costs to B.C. municipalities. The net increase may be further boosted by salary increases, still undetermined.

The health department budget, recommended today, totals $127,000, down some $16,000 from 1958.

Local Brewery Announces Major Modernization

A $100,000 modernization program at its Victoria brewery was announced here today by Lucky Lager Breweries Ltd.

R. Frank Lewarne, executive vice-president and managing director of Lucky Lager, said the Victoria brewery had been modernized to permit brewing for Vancouver Island consumption of Labatt's Pilsener beer. Prior to today's announcement this brand had been produced only at the company's New Westminster plant.

Mr. Lewarne said the move will increase considerably the output of the Victoria brewery and will result in more steady employment. The plant has 75 employees.

Lucky Lager Breweries Ltd. is a subsidiary of John Labatt Ltd., one of Canada's oldest and largest brewing companies.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. Could you please tell me the name of the boy who represents all crippled children?

A. Timmy. There is one "Timmy" for each province in which the campaign for funds, raised through Easter seals, is carried out. B.C.'s "Timmy" for 1959 is Victor Joseph of Vancouver.

Q. What is the population of Canada?—E.M.P.

A. Bureau of statistics estimate in February of this year put figure at 17,284,000.

Across wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to answer questions, or legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to dealers.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

An additional forgery charge and promise of still more charges was heard by Work Point soldier Robert John Fullerton in city police court today, bringing the total to four since Tuesday.

Fullerton has pleaded guilty to all charges and next appears in court Saturday, when details of the new charge and possible other charges will be heard.

Another soldier faces four similar charges in city and Saanich police courts.

Christopher George Toplis, 19, of 2316 Howard, and Peter Paul Rafferty, 18, of 1601 Esquimalt, each were fined $15 in city police court Wednesday when they pleaded guilty to being a minor in possession of liquor.

A meeting of the Victoria Kinsmen Club will be held tonight at 6:30 in the Pacific Club. B.C. Electric vice-president W. C. Mearns will be guest speaker.

Emil Johnson, 1746 Pembroke, was sentenced in city police court today to one month in jail after pleading guilty Wednesday to a charge of stealing $1.73 worth of groceries from Safeway Stores Ltd., 1625 Fort.

He asked Magistrate William Oster for leniency on grounds that his wife is ill, but the magistrate said he could not overlook Johnson's substantial previous record.

New chairman of the Victoria chapter of the Appraisal Institute of Canada elected at the annual meeting is George Townsend of the veterans' affairs department.

Other officers elected are: vice-chairman, David Borthwick, provincial government; secretary, George Burchell, DVA; executive members, William Riddell, provincial government; and William Craven, Saanich municipality.

A Victoria man is under arrest by city police in connection with a burglary and reported theft of about $97 from Benny's Grill, 1020 Blanshard, early today.

The man was arrested at Fort and Quadra at 1:25 a.m. after he was seen walking east on Fort away from the grill where a man had been seen moments earlier.

The junior branch of the Victoria Natural History Society will meet at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at the Monterey parking lot for a trip to its tree plot at Beaver Lake.

Victoria chartered accountant G. Fitzpatrick Durn has been elected to the board of governors of the Canadian Tax Foundation, an independent research organization.

Other B.C. members are William M. Carlyle and T. E. H. Ellis, QC, both of Vancouver.

College to Pay $115,500 For Gordon Head Property

Victoria College will pay a total of $115,500 for the 119.5-acre federal property in Gordon Head, Judge J. B. Clearhugh confirmed today.

Judge Clearhugh, chairman of the college council, said the sum includes: $72,000 for the 62-acre army camp on the west side of Finnerly; $15,500 for 22 army buildings; and $28,000 for 57 1/2-acre department of transport property on the east side of Finnerly.

He said that the two pieces of land will be bought as a block in a single deal.

INCOME TAX TIPS

Allowances for Pension or Bonus

This is the thirteenth of a series on how to make out your income tax returns and get refunds and lost possible concessions. It is prepared by Gordon A. Green, partner in the firm of Bailey, Munro, Holmes & Co., chartered accountants, in collaboration with income tax officials. It will continue daily.

By GORDON A. GREEN

Many taxpayers receive a lump sum payment out of a pension plan fund when they terminate their employment, or upon the winding-up of the pension plan.

In other cases a lump sum payment is received in recognition of long service upon retirement.

Sometimes a payment or payments are received from an employer upon or after retirement to compensate for loss of office or employment.

On occasion payment or payments are received from an employer as a death benefit.

In some of the above cases the recipient is the widow or other beneficiary, rather than the employee.

There are certain provisions in the Income Tax Act to minimize the amount of income tax payable on the above.

These provisions permit the taxpayer to delete the sums received from his income, and to pay a special tax on these items alone.

If the taxpayer finds, however, that it is to his benefit to include the payment or payments in his regular income, he may do so.

Payments received above in respect of loss of office or employment, or as death benefits, are eligible for the special rate of tax only if they are received in the year of retirement or death, or within one year after that year.

Most people make use of the above provisions. If you are in doubt as to the advisability of using these, contact your income tax adviser, or the income tax office.

Easter Do-It-Yourself . . . Let Children Dye Eggs!

By PENNY SAVER

Easter Saturday afternoon can be a barrel of fun for all those wild Indians and make-believe nurses around your house. Cook them up a bunch of hard-boiled eggs (or if you're clever—and the children can handle delicate things—blow out insides of eggs—save 'em for a cake or scrambled eggs). Then supervise the dyeing. Use a 19-cent packet of Easter egg dyes—complete with dozens of pretty transfers, and a mystery pencil. Have one of your imps write his name on the egg, before dyeing it. When color comes out—name appears clear as crystal.

Those dyed eggs would make a pretty centerpiece for Easter dinner table—with daffodils and green around them. Put eggs in little woven baskets—that are all the rich Easter colors—purple, yellows, with greens. The eggs look so attractive nestled in real baskets.

These are in all sizes and shapes and start at five cents for a basket that would hold about four eggs.

If you haven't already got it in the frig, now is the time to buy that Easter ham. Fresh hams from Vancouver and Calgary meat packers are in.

This great Easter favorite—ham and spring just seem to go together—is about 55 cents a pound in local shops.

Westphalian ham, spicy and delicious, specially smoked and prepared, and out-of-this-world in flavor, is available in a small specialty shop. If your family is small, or you want an extra-special treat, this is it! $1.49 a pound.

Another Easter meat favorite is spring lamb. Fresh, young lamb shoulder roasts with mint sauce or spicy mint jelly—delicious!

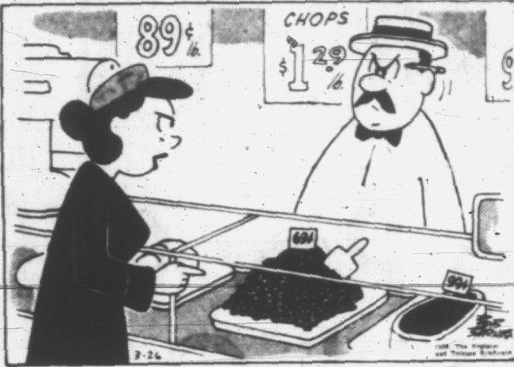

Lamb sells for 55 cents a pound.

Vegetables at their peak now: Asparagus—young, tender and tasty—39 cents a pound; spinach, two pounds for 39 cents; fresh peas, two pounds for 45 cents.

Most vegetables are shipped in from California right now. Cucumbers at 39 cents each are local produce.

DEAR ABBY . . .

Funny Business!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago my husband (who is 61) started getting letters from lonely widows. According to him he only wanted their names for his mail order business. When I asked him how come these letters are coming to the house instead of his office he tells me he doesn't want his secretary to know about it. Now I'm beginning to wonder what is going on between him and his secretary if he's worried about what she thinks. We've been married almost 40 years and he always seemed satisfied with me. Is there such a thing as "change of life" for men, Abby, and how can I tell if this is what's happening to my husband?

On Etiquette

Thanks for birthday card: I have one friend who writes a charming note thanking me for sending her a birthday card each year. Is it necessary to do so? I confess it has never occurred to me to acknowledge cards.

Louise Davis answers:

If a friend is thoughtful enough to send you a birthday message, the natural impulse is to show appreciation. Some people are gifted at writing charming and sincere notes which are so pleasant to receive. Others like to pick up the telephone to give verbal thanks. If one is made happy by receiving a birthday card, how is the other fellow going to know how pleased you are unless you tell her!

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Many women forget their silhouette when buying a hat. This is a mistake. The shape of your hat—not only flatters your face but is also a part of the whole you. For instance, a short woman will look overpowered and pressed down by a very large hat as she will while carrying a large bag.

The woman with an oval face and average height and size can wear practically any kind of hat, but those which do not detract from the oval appearance will be most becoming.

The tall woman with a long, thin face should avoid tall, slim hats. Those with a medium or wide brim will be flattering. Veils which cut across the face will tend to make it look wider.

If you have a round face you need height in your hat, but it must not be too narrow or it will look like a pea stuck on the top of an orange. Do not wear wide brims. Hats with a sloping line at the face and with some height are best.

If you would like to have my leaflet which helps you match your clothes to your figures, send a self-stamped envelope with your request for leaflet No. 54. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—While the Sinatra's away, the Aly Khan will play. Lady Beatty, Frankie's most recent No. 1 gal, appeared to be Aly Khan's No. 1 date the other a.m. at the big party he gave at Cafe Louis XIV. Frankie had taken off for Hollywood a few hours before. Lady Beatty, the former Adele Dillingham from Tulsa, was wearing a gold lame dress with a belt around the knees and seemed to be enjoying the Aly's company when they were dancing closely.

She left for England the other day so the romance with Frank seems to be over—for a few days, anyway. "Call me when you get to London," the Lady said evidently sincerely. "I'm one of the few people still in the phone book."

Jennifer Jones is due back any day after almost a year of treatment in Switzerland for a nervous condition. In "First Impressions," which just opened, Hermione Gingold plays the mother of five trying to get all of them married off. Once when embarrassed by a mistake, she says, "I must go, I've got one of my terrible headaches—in fact, I've got five of them."

Nobody ever really believed Zsa Zsa Gabor and Hal Hayes would get married despite the diamond ring and all the talk—and she admitted at Aly Khan's party that she's "broken the engagement, darling." She was with writer Andre Solt. Re marriage: Yes, she'd be glad to marry again, somebody like Conrad Hilton or her ex-husband, George Sanders.

The Brooklyn Internal Revenue telephone number is UL 2-5100, and Sam J. Kingdon figured out that the UL stands for ULcer. Arthur Murray (the wit) heard that Errol Flynn had a very shapely and beautiful secretary who could not type, so he gave her five years' notice.

Add "Funny Signs": In Honolulu, Texas: "Welcome. This is God's country. Don't drive through it like Hell." (from Dick Connolly, Fort Worth. In a Greenwich Village bar: "Resignations accepted here for Alcoholics Anonymous"; in a

How Do You Make Charcoal?

Summer is on the way and many lucky families will be cooking outdoors over glowing charcoal fires. The charcoal you buy is made in special up-to-date ovens. But it is still possible to make it by the simple methods used since time began.

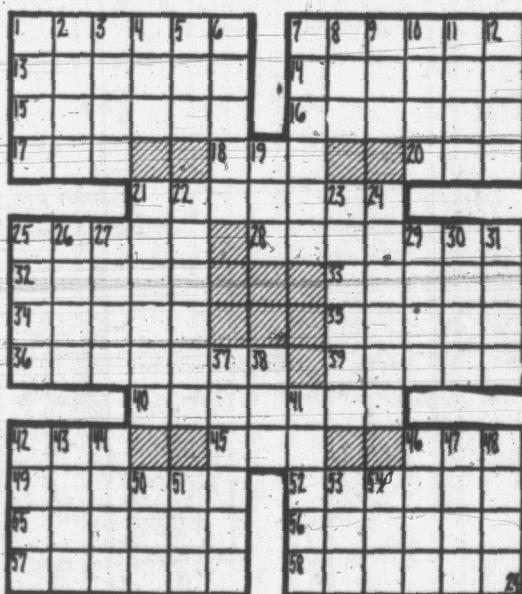

With modern equipment, 100 pounds of wood yields about 30 pounds of charcoal. By the old fashioned method, 100 pounds of the wood yields 20 pounds or less. Charcoal is partly burned or slowly roasted wood. It contains a high percentage of carbon. However, it is the material mixed with the carbon which makes it burn. The trick is to drive off certain materials in the wood, but not all of them. This is done by slow fire where not much draft is present.

The charcoal burner of old did his work in the woods. He chose a clearing and dug a pit. Into the pit went the wood which was to be burned into charcoal. Over the pit, the charcoal maker built a cone of wooden slats. The wooded

New Means Save Material

It is inexpensive and not too hard to make charcoal by this process. But it is long and tiresome. By modern methods, the wood is roasted slowly in closed retorts. The process is faster and it yields more charcoal. What's more, certain by-products such as tar, acetic acid and acetone are saved.

Charcoal is also made from bones. As with the wood, the material is slowly roasted. Water vapor, oil and gases are driven off. Bone charcoal is a wonderful filter material. It

Sun Greets Cavalcade On Arrival in Alaska

SCOTTIE CREEK, Alaska (AP)—The Michigan 59ers caravan crossed the Canadian border into Alaska Wednesday.

The first vehicle in the caravan crossed the imaginary line that separates Scottie Creek, Alaska, from Border City, Yukon, at 5:30 p.m. PST.

The sun was shining brightly and the temperature was a brisk 26 degrees. Tears flowed freely down weary faces broken by thankful smiles.

The 59ers, a group of 39 men, women and children from the Detroit area, plan to homestead on the Kenai peninsula, southwest of Anchorage.

Mrs. Marino Sik, clutching her nine-month-old daughter, spoke for all when she said: "We're in Alaska at last. A tremendous welcome in Anchorage, Alaska's largest city, is planned for the 59ers when they arrive Friday."

Russia to Send Car To Vancouver Show

VANCOUVER (CP)—A service club promoting a foreign-car auto show here April 14 has been assured that the first Russian car to be displayed in Canada will be on hand for the show. It will be a Moskvitch, one of several models the Russians now are making available to the world market.

DE GAULLE PLEDGES SUPPORT

France Stands by Germans

PARIS (Reuters) — President Charles de Gaulle Wednesday rejected any policy of disengagement in central Europe and backed West Germany to the hilt on reunification.

"If the zone of disarmament or disengagement did not go as far toward the Urals as it went toward the Atlantic, France would not be covered,"

UFAW REJECTS CCF ALLIANCE

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Independent United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union Wednesday voted against supporting the CCF in the next provincial election.

Instead it went on record as favoring a broadly based "people's political party" which would include the Labor-Progressive (Communist) Party, farmers, CCF and all Canadian Labor Congress unions, because "it feels that if we are going to achieve unity it is not going to be on the basis of supporting one political party."

Two Sooke Youths Admit Trespassing

Two Sooke youths, caught after an eight-block pursuit by Saanich police Tuesday night, pleaded guilty in Saanich court today to trespassing by night.

Victor Paul Harrison, 18, and Reginald James Fagan, 20, were remanded for probation report and sentence to April 2.

Police said the pair disturbed Wilfred Chan, 3180 Davin, as they tried to remove fender skirts from Chan's car. He called police and on the arrival of a patrol car the youths ran off.

They went through property and over fences for exactly eight blocks before they were stopped on Albina near Tillium School, court was told.

"We were under the influence of alcohol," Fagan said. "We weren't trying to steal anything off the car. We were just horsing around. We had this bottle of rum and we did not want anyone to see us with it."

Other than that, the pair was unable to explain to Magistrate William Ostler why they ran away.

He told his first press conference here since he became president of the Fifth Republic last January.

Discussing one of the world's major East-West problems, de Gaulle said:

"Germany threatens us in no way. We even consider that with her capacities and resources she could produce an essential element of the life and progress of Europe and the whole world. France and Germany are determined to co-operate."

He described Russia's demand for an end to the four-power status of Berlin and demilitarization of West Berlin as a policy that "plunges the world into grave anxiety."

He added: "We shall therefore support nothing that can push the German people to despair, compromise their peaceful future or ruin the hopes which after so many shocks and tears have been raised on both sides of the Rhine."

De Gaulle asserted that a free, reunified Germany "seems to us to be the normal destiny of the German people" provided its present frontiers remain unchanged.

ELECTION SEEN FOR ONTARIO

TORONTO (UPI) — Ontario's 25th legislature was expected to prorogue today. All signs indicated Premier Leslie Frost would move within the next few weeks to dissolve the House and call an election.

Made of dry 1 1/2" Stock 8, 10 and 12-inch widths, "FOREST" Siding is a new type of Siding obtained from specially selected Cedar logs sawn to show the beauty and character of knots, burls, etc.

WHAT ARE ITS QUALITIES?

"FOREST" Siding with its substantial thickness and greater wood volume adds to the structural strength and solidity of the building.

The design of "FOREST" Siding ensures a tight weather seal of the lap which, together with its thickness and flush-to-base principle, makes excellent material from the insulation standpoint.

"FOREST" Siding represents an economy to home-builders. Costing less than most other types of Siding the lap design ensures easy fitting and speedy application at less labor cost.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

FRIDAY, MARCH 27, 1959

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—Be most careful in dealings with persons important to you, whether social or business, or you will lose much. A high official may seem to be a detriment to you, but this is only a preconceived notion. Analyze well before you speak or act.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—One you consider to be an associate could turn against you today because of some ill feeling which is strange to you. It is better to have a good, clear talk with him or her and convince of your loyalty quickly. Be calm.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Chances taken today in the performance of your work will only result in your having to do the work over again and you could easily be put on the carpet by big executive. Work carefully. Cut down expenses and do not waste any thing.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21)—Unavoidable delays may make you feel unhappy and dissatisfied in your eagerness to get ahead, but be philosophical instead and keep laboring diligently toward aims. P.M. is fine time to enjoy yourself personally and be happy.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—Whatever needs attention at abode could reach ridiculous proportions if you do not handle the situation carefully and with real concern. Remember that the home is the most important sphere, and be very alert. This applies to real estate, too.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—Fine day to be in the teeming world of activity, but take care in driving or traffic with other persons, also guarding your words for best results. See that you are economical, too, and do not empty your wallet.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—Take care you do not pretend poverty because of some big pressing obligation, or this will lose you some friends or prestige. Let the money you have stretch wisely in the right directions.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—This is just one of those days when a better steer clear of you, for you could mow all upstarts down without the least compunction. Of course, this could work the other way around if you are too demanding.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—You have a feeling that other persons are hemming you in, but it is only that you expect to be perfectly independent, which is but a dream in this agrarian world. Count your blessings and you will change your attitude. Be happy.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—If you do not pretend or keep yourself so busy you don't have a minute to spare, a complaining or forceful friend could really corner you. Don't stand for it. P.M. steer clear of social gatherings that are rather boring, valueless.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—Don't let off with that Aquarian temper today and give higher ups a piece of your mind. Conserve your energies for constructive labors that will raise you above this and you will then be far ahead of the game. Meet obligations.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)—Are you aware of the little tricks that individual is endeavoring to pull so that you may lower your standards to his or hers? Know exactly what it is you want and do not compromise. Labor toward own aims alone.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN FRIDAY—The dear child born Friday seems to feel that life is but a challenging game in which he or she must ever be the ring-leader. Teach fundamental principles of ethics and co-operation with others early for the best results in this chart. Then your talent-loaded progeny will evolve into a most worthwhile citizen and go far in his or her chosen profession. Give a college education.

SATURDAY, MARCH 28, 1959

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—Meet your obligations during the morning and finish whatever monetary affairs are at hand. Later in the day you can then easily get the support you need from other persons who are vitally interested in your well-being.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—Cement better relations with your associates in a.m. Decide all policy matters quickly. Put them in operation immediately directly after decision. However, do not procrastinate or digress for this would deter your advancement.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Get rid of odds and ends in early a.m. Then you will have time to be with associates for better understanding and doing the work that is required to make your joint projects a real success. Attend to any public works, too.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21)—A.M. is fine to bring to attention of others those talents you have and get the backing you need from them. Tonight is then excellent for working on suggestions proffered seriously. Labor with enthusiasm and determination.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—Morning is fine for putting abode in perfect order and dealing with property matters. This releases time later for interests in outside world and having a really good time. Maintain a cheerful mien and have a profitable day.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—Day hours should be spent industriously at work in office, at desk, regular job so that tonight you can give all your attention to matters of importance at residence and be good to loves ones. Entertain lightly there.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—Check to see that you are keeping the most complete set of books, or set up a more efficient one. Later, dash about making calls, shopping, buying gadgets and appliances that make your work easier.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—Think in terms of self now and know just what it is you desire and see that you get your health up higher. Later, take inventory of your assets and liabilities and decide how to increase assets most quickly. Labor with vim.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Fine morning for secretly ferreting out your relative position with other persons and gathering data you require. P.M. is then free for social and other pleasures that please you the most. Be merry and restore energies.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—Be sure you understand all the fine advice that is proffered in a.m. by intelligent and dynamic friend. Follow through quickly on it. Then be charitable with those who look to you for assistance. P.M. be romantic.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—See that you are in good standing with authorities this a.m. and you insure your future. Later in the day your loyal pals will give you further support you need at this time. P.M. go to social gathering and enjoy yourself.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)—Your paper and media of information bring many of the answers for which you have been searching for some time. Later, an expert will be very pleased with your special talents. Make the most of this. Be nonchalant.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN SATURDAY—The fine child born Saturday is so intelligent that his or her success in life is almost assured, provided you equip your youngster with the finest college education money can buy. But be sure the practical subjects are stressed. Later life can be most profitable and full of real responsibility in weighty matters that have to do with government and the foreign fields.

The said work to be paid in annual installments over 20 years, or commuted in one payment.

Unless within one month after the publication of this notice of March 26th, 1959, the majority of the owners representing at least one-half of the value of the parcels which are liable to be specially charged petition the Council not to proceed with it, the work may be undertaken as a local improvement.

STATEMENT - HE SAID IT "IS A breach of the spirit of the terms of union with Newfoundland."

BREACH OF CONTRACT

Newfoundland Liberal J. W. Pickersill (Bonaville-Twillington), said Newfoundlanders will regard it as a breach of a solemn contract.

In a statement that called for draping government buildings in mourning, Mr. Smallwood said it is the third time in as many months Newfoundland has been "betrayed by Mr. Diefenbaker."

The federal government had "failed" to fill vacancies in the Newfoundland Supreme Court, he said. Mr. Diefenbaker had "violated Canada's solemn contract to supply peace officers," a reference to federal refusal to reinforce RCMP policing-striking loggers in Newfoundland.

"Now the greatest betrayal of all," Mr. Smallwood said.

CONSIDER LATER

Mr. Diefenbaker said in announcing the government's decision on recommendations of a royal commission that after March 31, 1962, "Newfoundland's position can be considered in the light of the general methods of providing financial assistance to the provinces which may be in effect at that time."

The royal commission, headed by Chief Justice J. B. McNair of New Brunswick, was established under the terms by which Newfoundland entered Confederation in 1949. The commission was to review the province's financial position.

It was to recommend the form and scale of additional financial assistance, if any, required by Newfoundland to enable it to maintain public services on a par with those in the other Atlantic provinces without additional taxation.

The Confederation article under which this commission was to be established made no mention of how long the additional financial aid was to continue.

ADDITIONAL PAYMENTS

Mr. Diefenbaker announced the government had accepted the commission's recommendation of additional payments of $6,600,000 in 1957-58; $6,350,000 in 1958-59; $7,300,000 in 1959-60; $7,650,000 in 1960-61; and $8,000,000 in 1961-62.

The commission also recommended annual payments of $8,000,000 after 1962. The province asked for $15,000,000 a year starting in 1957.

But Mr. Diefenbaker said "in our view the duration of payments should be limited to five years (1957-62) as both Newfoundland and Canada have recognized the difficulties involved in making projections from one selected year into the future and it has appeared to be quite inappropriate to endeavor to provide for a fixed amount payable annually over a period of unlimited duration."

Mr. Pearson said the Liberal party believes the McNair awards should be paid on a continuing basis until some definite provision is made for a review.

WANTS MP TO RESIGN

Mr. Smallwood, whose Liberal government has been in power in Newfoundland since 1949, called on Newfoundland's representative in the Progressive Conservative cabinet, Hon. William J. Browne, to resign.

Mr. Browne replied in an interview: "I don't see any reason why I should resign." He said "there are 22 members in the cabinet of Canada and I can't expect to ram my opinion all down their throats."

Dalai Lama Fleeing To India?

DARJEELING, India (AP) — A reliable source here on the Indian border reported today that the Chinese Communists have announced that the Dalai Lama fled from Lhasa during the revolt in the Tibetan capital.

The whereabouts of Tibet's 23-year-old religious and political leader, revered by his people as "the living Buddha," was unknown in Kalimpong. There were rumors he was heading south toward the Indian protectorate of Sikkim, between Darjeeling and Tibet, or southeast toward the Indian province of Assam.

MAY GO TO INDIA
Refugee Tibetans were speculating that their Buddhist god-king would remain with the resistance forces in southern Tibet or might cross into India.

Reports persisted that the revolt that broke out in Lhasa last Friday has spread to the countryside. The Chinese have been reported in control once again of Lhasa.

TAIPEI (UPI) — President Chiang Kai-shek said today he would lead his Nationalist Chinese forces against the Communists if the Tibetan rebels carry on their fight.

Chiang's offer of help to the Tibetan rebels was viewed by best-informed quarters in Washington as a matter of trying to give them moral support and an effort to encourage revolts in other areas dominated by Red China.

Authorities could think of no way in which Chiang could give any substantial aid in men or materials to the Tibetan rebels.

Lebanese Pledge

CAIRO (AP) — A Lebanese pledge to co-operate in working for Arab unity strengthened President Nasser today in his feud with Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem.

Pilgrimage From Bethany Opens Easter in Holy Land

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI) — Protestants begin their Easter weekend today with a communion service and a pilgrimage from Bethany to Jerusalem along the route taken by Jesus on his march to the crucifixion.

The pilgrimage began in a basement crypt reached by descending a narrow stone staircase. In the center of the room is an altar of remembrance built of 12 stones from Bethel, untouched by tools according to the biblical injunction.

This crypt is called the oratory of reconciliation room. Around the walls are four bas-reliefs illustrating the story told in Matthew 5:23-24 of the two quarreling brothers whose sacrifice was accepted by Heaven once they had made their peace with each other.

A worship service will be held here emphasizing reconciliation as the way to God. The worshippers then ascend to the last supper room.

On the second floor of the building, here a communion service was held with fellow-pilgrims from the Protestant denominations in Israel.

Then the worshippers continued their pilgrimage ascending to the silent room directly over the 152-foot Jesus tower.

A small gate opens to a stairway leading to the silent room where the pilgrimage ends in meditation.

Sky A-Blast Can Blackout Radio, Radar

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A defense department spokesman said today that last year's high-altitude atomic tests show the feasibility of causing a total—but temporary—"blackout" of all radio and radar in the Moscow area.

Roy W. Johnson, director of the defense department's advanced research projects agency, said this could be done in theory by setting off high altitude nuclear shots over the Indian Ocean. He quickly added that Russia, presumably by space-shots in other areas, could produce a similar blackout in the U.S. (The sheet of radiation produced by the high-altitude explosions was about 100 miles thick and soared to altitudes as high as 4,000 miles above the earth, it was reported at the White House Wednesday.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

O Thou who didst raise from the dead our Lord, Jesus Christ, raise up within us strong characters to withstand the raucous calls of evil. Create within us a clean heart. Lift us above the common and unclean that we may be new creatures, created by God and re-created by Jesus Christ, our Lord, Amen.

AMNESTY URGED BY A-G FOR 15 JAILED LOGGERS

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — Attorney-General Leslie Curtis today asked the federal government to approve his recommendation to remit sentences of 15 loggers sent to jail as a result of the central Newfoundland woods dispute.

The minister said the request for amnesty has been made by the Newfoundland Brotherhood of Woods-Workers (Ind.) formed by Premier Smallwood to counter the IWA.

1 DEAD, 3 MISSING

Liner Knifes Into Tanker

NEW YORK (AP) — A return voyage from a vacation cruise to the Caribbean was interrupted by a shuddering jolt for 247 passengers when the liner Santa Rosa and a tanker collided at 3 a.m. today 22 miles off Atlantic City, N.J.

One crew member of the tanker Valchem was killed, three were missing and 16 were injured. Nobody on the $25,000,000 cruise ship was hurt but a fire broke out in a forward paint room. It was kept from spreading but smoldered for hours before it could be extinguished.

The Santa Rosa's prow knifed half-through the stern section of the tanker and disabled its engines. For some 2½ hours, the ships were kept wedged together until their captains decided they would be in danger of sinking if they pulled apart.

When the Santa Rosa backed away, its damaged bow carried the smokestack of the Valchem.

WAIT FOR TUGBOATS

The tanker stood by to await the arrival of tugboats for towing to port. The liner got under way for New York, about 75 miles away, at mid-morning.

Seventeen members of the Valchem crew were transferred to the Santa Rosa. Of these, three were to be admitted to hospital in New York, 13 were treated for minor injuries and one was uninjured. An 18th tanker crew member was taken by helicopter to Atlantic City, but was dead on arrival.

The Valchem had been heading for southern ports carrying only ballast. Had it been loaded with fuel, disaster might have resulted.

Circumstances leading to the collision were not immediately clear. The weather was believed to have been clear, though with a slight haze and a slight wind.

The Valchem, about half the size of the 16,000-ton Santa Rosa, is owned by the Heron Steamship Company and carried a crew of 42. The Santa Rosa has a crew of 265.

Allies Send Summit Notes To Russians

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States, Britain and France expressed willingness today to meet at the summit with Russia if a prior foreign ministers' conference can narrow cold war differences and prepare constructive proposals.

The three allied Western powers formally presented their views in similar notes to the Kremlin.

All three agreed that a summit conference this summer would be worthwhile if the foreign ministers' meeting in Geneva in May shows promise.

The U.S. note specifically listed a peace treaty with Germany, and the tense Berlin situation as problems that could be dealt with by the foreign ministers and later at the summit.

However, the note said the purpose of the negotiations would "be to reach positive agreements over as wide a field as possible."

The U.S. emphasized that the foreign ministers should discuss "questions relating to Germany, including a peace treaty with Germany and the question of Berlin."

Students Join Smallwood's Day of Mourning

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — This capital city of Canada's newest province was in mourning today for what Premier Smallwood called a "betrayal" by the federal government.

Premier Smallwood addressed the students, about 700 of whom marched to the House of Assembly. Mr. Smallwood wore a black coat, black hat and dark glasses as a sign of mourning. He said he was sure the rest of Canada would rise in rebellion against the treatment accorded Newfoundland by Ottawa.

The students, carrying placards with such slogans as "Johnny is a Joker," hanged Prime Minister Diefenbaker in effigy before dispersing.

It was the first time mourning had been proclaimed in Newfoundland since King George VI died in 1952.

Premier Smallwood said Wednesday night that Prime Minister Diefenbaker "plunged Newfoundland into mourning" with his announcement that the province will get $36,500,000 in federal grants between now and March 31, 1962. After that, the prime minister told the Commons, "Newfoundland's position can be considered in the light of the general methods of providing financial assistance to the provinces which may be in effect at that time."

PROVINCE SHOCKED

Mr. Smallwood said "Newfoundlanders are stunned by the Canadian government's betrayal of Newfoundland."

"Prime Minister Diefenbaker's statement on what his administration intends to do to honor... the terms of Confederation plunged Newfoundland into mourning for another Canadian obligation outraged by Mr. Diefenbaker."

Chesley A. Crosby, who with Mr. Smallwood was a member of the seven-man Newfoundland delegation which negotiated the terms of confederation, said today he was not surprised by the Ottawa announcement.

"I had no faith in that contract at the time and time has borne me out," Mr. Crosby was the only delegate to disagree with the terms of union of Newfoundland and Canada.

Liberal Leader Pearson said in the Commons the federal assumption of no federal obligation beyond 1962 is "quite unwarranted." Later in a

B.C. Chief Gets No. 2 RCMP Post

Assistant Commissioner Clifford W. Harvison, 58, who has headed the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in B.C. since July, 1956, has been appointed a deputy commissioner at RCMP headquarters in Ottawa, it was announced today.

He will leave Victoria early next week and take up his new duties April 1. His successor here is expected to be named early in April.

The promotion was announced by Commissioner L. H. Nicholson who resigns April 1 in disagreement over the government's refusal to send RCMP reinforcements to strike-torn Newfoundland.

Harvison, who is one of Canada's leading criminal investigators, was prominently mentioned as a successor to Nicholson. But the job went to deputy commissioner C. E. Rivett-Carnac, who formerly headed the B.C. force.

Born in Montreal, Harvison first joined the force in 1919. He has taken part in many of Canada's outstanding prosecutions, foremost of which was the postwar espionage case touched off by Russian cypher clerk Igor Gouzenko.

His Ottawa appointment was announced on his 58th birthday.

BROKE RUM-RING

He was a constable in Montreal when Prohibition was law in the United States. New York racketeers were importing liquor from Canada and Harvison's investigations led to the arrest of seven ring-leaders and 30 other operators.

During the Second World War, Harvison investigated several cases of fraud in war contracts.

In 1946 he worked on the spy case revealed by Igor Gouzenko. He and another officer interrogated Gouzenko and a number of others, including former MP Fred Rose.

War Against Bureaucratic Blight

OTTAWA (CP) — Official Ottawa's moving to get rid of gobbledygook.

A 34-member interdepartmental committee, set up five years ago, is working on a style manual designed to smooth the unruly syntax of the civil service, eliminate jargon and improve spelling.

The bulky red volume is likely to be available in November, replacing one published 20 years ago.

The 17-chapter guide to government editors will include hints on punctuation, abbreviation, capitalization, headings, reference matter and graphic presentation.

Hyphens, always a happy hunting ground for purists, get a whole chapter.

Ready for the printers is a section on grammar and spelling, prepared by John C. Outram of the defence department.

He cites as "pure jargon" this sample sentence: "The position in regard to this whole thing is that active consideration cannot be given to it until present conditions change and the matter can be settled in due course."

Bidding to lift the bureaucratic blight, Mr. Outram bears down on "ugly and unwieldy" nouns such as substitutability, expansibility, performativity and frustratability, "extraordinary" verbs such as diarise and routine and "indiscriminate" adverb forms such as weatherwise, financial-wise and healthwise.

Basically, the manual aims at simple, straightforward writing. Civil servants will be urged to say "while" instead of "during the course of," and just plain "for" instead of "for the purpose of."

Committee chief is J. Stuart McGiffin of the agriculture department.

The Canadian campaign against clichés recalls the work of Sir Ernest Gowers, former United Kingdom civil servant whose Plain Words is a standard work.

In the U.K. war on wordy writing, one authority speculated that Winston Churchill's wartime message, "Give us the tools and we will finish the job," might have been rendered by a bureaucrat in these words:

"Donate us the implements and we will finalize the assignment."

Space Cabins Tested

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dummy space capsules the size of those that someday may carry U.S. spacemen into orbit have been dropped into the ocean from high-flying planes and recovered intact.

Scientists reported today that after the capsules dropped in free fall for set distances, parachutes opened to slow their descent. The cone-like capsules weighed more than a ton.

Such a resounding ocean impact splash may be the tipoff to future spacemen that they are back to earth again.

Next step in the space research program: Development of materials to absorb the shock of landings on ground.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration today reported significant progress in four general areas—air drops, escape techniques, impact tests, and wind tunnel and flight studies of model capsules.

The early research is part of project Mercury, the program to place a man in orbit around the earth. So far, its research has provided valuable information toward developing a safe and reliable manned satellite capsule, NASA said.

Two other highlights of the progress report were: Space scientists have been experimenting on the firing of escape rockets that would permit a man to get out of a capsule high enough in the air for a parachute to open—if trouble should develop soon after launching.

Wind tunnel tests are planned of a space capsule on top of a Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile.

NASA has been paring down a list of 110 potential Mercury spacemen.

Girl Dies Of Crash Injuries

Inquest into the highway fatality of 17-year-old Linda Henly, 1722 Bay, will be held Tuesday at 10 a.m. at Hayward's funeral home.

The teen-aged occupant of a 1948 model car which crashed out of control and overturned on the Malahat Sunday night died at St. Joseph's Hospital Wednesday at 3:15 p.m. She never regained consciousness after receiving a head injury and a fractured leg.

Her death was the second traffic fatality in the Greater Victoria area this year.

One of six teen-agers who were riding in the car when it crashed, Linda was brought to hospital by ambulance with two others. En route, the ambulance was in collision with another vehicle at Douglas and Caledonia, causing about $1,000 damage and severing an oxygen line feeding the unconscious girl.

GOOD CONDITION

Driver of the wrecked Malahat car was identified by police as Francis Gilbert, 19, of 1250 Palmer, who was treated for minor injuries and discharged from hospital.

William Champion, 18, of 31 Wellington, was later discharged after treatment, and the three other victims, Dorothy Léard, 17, of 1502 Gladstone; James McMaster, 17, of 1128 Leonard; and Bruce Whitten, 17, of 53 Wellington, are in good condition at St. Joseph's, where they are being treated for multiple injuries.

The dead girl leaves a twin sister, Marcia, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Henly. Mr. Henly is a B.C. Electric bus driver.

The twins were born in Victoria and attended St. Ann's Academy, where Linda was in her final year of studies. She was a member of Catholic Youth Organization.

Drag Race Car Thieves Sent to Jail

Three Victoria teen-agers who wrecked two of three stolen cars in an early morning escapade Feb. 26—each were sentenced to jail terms when they appeared in Sooke RCMP court Wednesday.

Each pleaded guilty to three charges of car theft. They were:

Henry Robert Essler, 18, sentenced to three months in Oakalla jail; Edward Dornier, 17, sentenced to nine months definite and one year indeterminate at young offenders unit.

The youngsters took a car from Oak Bay, drove it beyond Sooke, where they stole another car, raced them on the Sooke Road and crashed both in a "drag" competition, then stole a third car at Sooke, after which they were stopped by police.

Plan to Pay Off Mall Laid Out

A draft by-law intended to make clear the methods of repaying the $1,000,000 View Street mall and parking garage was to be introduced in city council today.

The draft specifically says the money will be used for the pedestrian mall, as well as the proposed parking garage.

It also earmarks profits from the proposed four-tier garage to be used in helping pay off the debentures.

A second draft bylaw, to be introduced, will establish a reserve fund into which all parking meter revenues will be deposited to:

1. Pay for operation of meters;
2. Siphon $106,050 annually from meter revenues into general revenue (the amount transferred to general revenue in 1958);
3. Help finance the View Street development and nine off-street parking facilities recommended in the 20-year downtown improvement plan announced last fall.

The first draft notes that despite wide publicity of city council's proposal, "certain doubts have been expressed as to the nature of the purpose" to which the $1,000,000 money bylaw passed by ratepayers last December will be put.

The draft is designed to amend the original bylaw "so as to remove such doubts and to confirm the purpose of the said borrowing ..."

The amendment must be approved by the provincial cabinet through an order-in-council. It will not go to the people for a vote.

A City Hall spokesman said the essential changes were: Specific mention of a pedestrian mall as part of the $1,000,000 project and earmarking of the garage's revenue for repayments.

CAN'T BE CHANGED

He added that another provision guarantees that, if the amendment is successful, future councils will not be able to make changes without the approval of the provincial cabinet.

Taken together, the two draft bylaws present this plan for repayment of the bonds:

1. Profits from the parking garage will be used first to pay installments on the debt; if sufficient,
2. Parking meter revenue exceeding $106,050 and maintenance costs will be used to make up the balance; if insufficient.

3. The difference will be raised from general revenue (the required stipulation under the Municipal Act.)

NO TAX MONEY

City council is expected to proceed with acquisition of the necessary View-Street properties and to start construction as soon as the consent of the provincial cabinet is received on the new bylaws.

Later, it is expected to raise parking meter rates to build up the proposed fund so that tax money is not needed for repayment.

The draft bylaws follow a widely-publicized campaign by Victoria MLA J. Donald Smith, a defeated alderman, against the parking plan. Mr. Smith, who previously said he would take the plan to court and also produce a large petition for a second vote, has been silent for some time.

GUEST SPEAKER at Victoria Kiwanis Club 6:15 p.m. Tuesday will be Miss Elizabeth Macaulay, information officer for the B.C. division of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society. A film, "Never Surrender," will be shown. Miss Macaulay will tour Vancouver Island March 30 to April 9.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Another soldier faces four similar charges in city and Saanich police courts.

He asked Magistrate William Ostler for leniency on grounds that his wife is ill, but the magistrate said he could not overlook Johnson's substantial previous record.

New chairman of the Victoria chapter of the Appraisal Institute of Canada elected at the annual meeting is George Townsend of the veterans' affairs department.

Other officers elected are: vice-chairman, David Borthwick, provincial government; secretary, George Burchell, DVA; executive members: William Riddell, provincial government, and William Craven, Saanich municipality.

Weatherman William Macle said winds will gain strength again Friday afternoon, rising to about 20 miles per hour from the southeast. Temperatures will range between 40 and 50 degrees to night and Friday.

Two escapees from Brannan Lake Industrial School were captured Wednesday in a car which police said was stolen from Nanaimo.

They were among nine who have fled from the boys' school since last Sunday. Another escapee, Richard Bowich, 16, was transferred to open court in Nanaimo and sentenced Wednesday to 12 months definite and 18 indeterminate in Oakalla after escaping from the school last February and again Sunday.

Const. Ivan F. Purdy said he spotted the pair in a car downtown. He said loot from break-ins at schools in James Bay here and Harewood at Nanaimo were recovered from the car. The boys were returned to Brannan Lake, near Nanaimo.

Aged Men's Home Sale Recommended

City health and welfare committee today recommended closure and sale of Mountain View Home.

The 30 aged men living in the home, at Cadboro Bay Road and Bowker, will be placed in private institutions during the next six months if city council accepts the recommendation.

Suggested closing date is Sept. 30. The building could be sold later for an estimated $30,000 to $40,000.

Funnelling the sale revenue into a special account to be used for assisting development of better accommodation for the aged, whether public or private, is proposed.

The Salvation Army and Gorge Road Hospital plan to build such accommodation, the committee was told Wednesday when the subject came up during estimates.

Shutting down the home would save the city most of the $16,700 annual operating cost.

This would offset increases in the 1959 welfare budget to be submitted by the committee to city council for consideration.

The gross welfare budget, recommended by the committee, will total $957,545 this year, an increase of $194,238.

But net increased cost to the city will total only $7,800 because the provincial government pays 90 per cent of welfare costs to B.C. municipalities. The net increase may be further boosted by salary increases, still undetermined.

The health department budget, recommended today, totals $127,000, down some $16,000 from 1958.

PHILIP'S BOAT TO RACE HERE IN 2 REGATTAS

Prince Philip's yacht, the Bluebottle, will take part in two Vancouver Island regattas during a tour of Canada this year.

The Dragon Class racer will be at Cadboro Bay for the Royal Victoria Yacht Club-Royal Canadian Naval Sailing Association regatta Aug. 29 and 30.

The next weekend, Sept. 5 and 6, Bluebottle is entered in the annual Labor Day regatta at Maple Bay, traditional closing event of the summer sailing season.

Skipper of Bluebottle will be Lt.-Cmdr. Coles, the Prince's sailing master. His two-man crew will be supplied by the host yacht clubs during the tour.

INCOME TAX TIPS

Allowances for Pension or Bonus

(This is the thirteenth of a series on how to make out your income tax returns and get refunds and best possible concessions. It is prepared by Gordon A. Green, partner in the firm of Bailey, Monro, Holmes & Co., chartered accountants, in collaboration with income tax officials. It will continue daily.)

By GORDON A. GREEN

Many taxpayers receive a lump sum payment out of a pension plan fund when they terminate their employment, or upon the winding-up of the pension plan.

In other cases a lump sum payment is received in recognition of long service upon retirement.

Sometimes a payment or payments are received from an employer upon or after retirement to compensate for loss of office or employment.

On occasion payment or payments are received from an employer as a death benefit.

In some of the above cases the recipient is the widow or other beneficiary; rather than the employee.

There are certain provisions in the Income Tax Act to minimize the amount of income tax payable on the above. These provisions permit the taxpayer to delete the sums received from his income, and to pay a special tax on these items alone.

If the taxpayer finds, however, that it is to his benefit to include the payment or payments in his regular income, he may do so.

Payments received above in respect to loss of office or employment, or as death benefits, are eligible for the special rate of tax only if they are received in the year of retirement or death, or within one year after that year.

Most people make use of the above provisions. If you are in doubt as to the advisability of using these, contact your income-tax adviser, or the income tax office.

WORLD SARDINE RECORD CLAIM BY VIC COLLEGE

Victoria College Engineers Club, with slide rules a-flying, set what they claimed to be a world's record today by jamming 28 students—22 boys and six girls—into an upright telephone booth at the college.

UBC claimed a record with 26.

The student engineers here, led by Ted Walton, president, started cramming the booth at 12.50 p.m. and by 1 p.m. figured they had better stop before the boys at the bottom rear gave out.

STUDENTS JOIN IN

John D. 'Hanged' In Nfld. Protest

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — This capital city of Canada's newest province was in mourning today for what Premier Smallwood called a "betrayal" by the federal government.

Premier Smallwood addressed the students, about 700 of whom marched to the House of Assembly. Mr. Smallwood wore a black coat, black hat and dark glasses as a sign of mourning. He said he was sure the rest of Canada would rise in rebellion against the treatment accorded Newfoundland by Ottawa.

The students, carrying placards with such slogans as "Johnny is a Joker," hanged Prime Minister Diefenbaker in effigy before dispersing.

It was the first time mourning had been proclaimed in Newfoundland since King George VI died in 1952.

Premier Smallwood said Wednesday night that Prime Minister Diefenbaker "plunged Newfoundland into mourning" with his announcement that the province will get $36,500,000 in federal grants between now and March 31, 1962. After that, the prime minister told the Commons, "Newfoundland's position can be considered in the light of the general methods of providing financial assistance to the provinces which may be in effect at that time."

PROVINCE SHOCKED

Mr. Smallwood said "Newfoundlanders are stunned by the Canadian government's betrayal of Newfoundland."

"Prime Minister Diefenbaker's statement on what his administration intends to do to honor... the terms of Confederation plunged Newfoundland into mourning for another Canadian obligation outraged by Mr. Diefenbaker."

Chesley A. Crosby, who with Mr. Smallwood was a member of the seven-man Newfoundland delegation which negotiated the terms of confederation, said today he was not surprised by the Ottawa announcement.

AMNESTY URGED BY A-G FOR 15 JAILED LOGGERS

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — Attorney-General Leslie Curtis today asked the federal government to approve his recommendation to remit sentences of 15 loggers sent to jail as a result of the central Newfoundland woods dispute.

The minister said the request for amnesty has been made by the Newfoundland Brotherhood of Woods-Workers (Ind.) formed by Premier Smallwood to counter the IWA.

CHIANG PLEDGES AID

Dalai Lama Rumored Fleeing to India

DARJEELING, India (AP) — A reliable source here on the Indian border reported today that the Chinese Communists have announced that the Dalai Lama fled from Lhasa during the revolt in the Tibetan capital.

The whereabouts of Tibet's 23-year-old religious and political leader, revered by his people as "the living Buddha," was unknown in Kalimpong. There were rumors he was heading south toward the Indian protectorate of Sikkim, between Darjeeling and Tibet, or southeast toward the Indian province of Assam.

Refugee Tibetans were speculating that their Buddhist god-king would remain with the resistance forces in southern Tibet or might cross into India.

Reports persisted that the revolt that broke out in Lhasa last Friday has spread to the countryside. The Chinese have been reported in control once again of Lhasa.

2nd Body Found Under Avalanche

BRALORNE, B.C. (CP) — The body of Christa Weinhold, 26, was recovered today by searchers probing the avalanche which swept her and her husband to their death Tuesday.

Discovery of the body ended a 36-hour search by RCMP and rescue workers, who had hoped that she might be found alive in an air pocket beneath the snow in McGillivray Pass, 15 miles southwest of here.

Chiang Kai-Shek said today he would lead his Nationalist Chinese forces against the Communists if the Tibetan rebels carry on their fight.

(Chiang's offer of help to the Tibetan rebels was viewed by best-informed quarters in Washington as a matter of trying to give them moral support and an effort to encourage revolts in other areas dominated by Red China.)

Helmut Weinhold, 31, was found dead Wednesday beneath four feet of snow.

The searchers had worked since midnight Tuesday under constant threat of another avalanche caused by a heavy thaw in the pass.

Discovery of the woman's body came after an army corporal was brought here from Camp Chilliwack in an attempt to trace her with a mine detector which would pick up any metal object she was wearing.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States, Britain and France expressed willingness today to meet at the summit with Russia if a prior foreign ministers' conference can narrow cold war differences and prepare constructive proposals.

2 Dead, 2 Missing In Crash Off N.J.

NEW YORK (AP) — A return voyage from a vacation cruise to the Caribbean was interrupted by a shuddering jolt for 247 passengers when the liner Santa Rosa and a tanker collided at 3 a.m. today 22 miles off Atlantic City, N.J.

Two crew members of the tanker Valchem were killed, two were missing and 16 were injured. Nobody on the $25,000,000 cruise ship was hurt but a fire broke out in a forward paint room. It was kept from spreading but smoldered for hours before it could be extinguished.

The Santa Rosa's prow knifed half through the stern section of the tanker and disabled its engines. For some 2½ hours, the ships were kept wedged together until their captains decided there would be no danger of sinking if they pulled apart.

When the Santa Rosa backed away, its damaged bow carried the smokestack of the Valchem.

WAIT FOR TUGBOATS

The tanker stood by to await the arrival of tugboats for towing to port. The liner got under way for New York, about 75 miles away, at mid-morning.

Seventeen members of the Valchem crew were transferred to the Santa Rosa. Of these, three were to be admitted to hospital in New York, 13 were treated for minor injuries and one was uninjured. An 18th tanker crew member was taken by helicopter to Atlantic City, but was dead on arrival.

The Valchem had been heading for southern ports carrying only ballast. Had it been loaded with fuel, disaster might have resulted.

Circumstances leading to the collision were not immediately clear. The weather was believed to have been clear, though with a slight haze and a slight wind.

The Valchem, about half the size of the 16,000-ton Santa Rosa, is owned by the Heron Steamship Company and carried a crew of 42. The Santa Rosa has a crew of 265.

Sky A-Blast Can Black Out Radio, Radar

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A defence department spokesman said today that last year's high-altitude atomic tests show the feasibility of causing a total—but temporary—"black-out" of all radio and radar in the Moscow area.

Roy W. Johnson, director of the defence department's advanced research projects agency, said this could be done in theory — by setting off high altitude nuclear shots over the Indian Ocean.

He quickly added that Russia, presumably by space shots in other areas, could produce a similar blackout in the U.S. (The sheet of radiation produced by the high-altitude explosions was about 100 miles thick and soared to altitudes as high as 4,000 miles above the earth, it was reported at the White House Wednesday.)

C. W. HARVISON
... deputy commissioner

B.C. Chief Gets No. 2 RCMP Post

Assistant Commissioner Clifford W. Harvison, 58, who has headed the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in B.C. since July, 1956, has been appointed a deputy commissioner at RCMP headquarters in Ottawa, it was announced today.

He will leave Victoria early next week and take up his new duties April 1. His successor here is expected to be named early in April.

The promotion was announced by Commissioner L. H. Nicholson who resigns April 1 in disagreement over the government's refusal to send RCMP reinforcements to strike-torn Newfoundland.

Harvison, who is one of Canada's leading criminal investigators, was prominently mentioned as a successor to Nicholson. But the job went to deputy commissioner C. E. Rivett-Carnac, who formerly headed the B.C. force.

Born in Montreal, Harvison first joined the force in 1919. He has taken part in many of Canada's outstanding prosecutions, foremost of which was the postwar espionage case tumbled off by Russian cypher clerk Igor Gouzenko.

His Ottawa appointment was announced on his 58th birthday.

BROKE RUM RING

He was a constable in Montreal when Prohibition was law in the United States. New York racketeers were importing liquor from Canada and Harvison's investigations led to the arrest of seven ringleaders and 30 other operators.

During the Second World War, Harvison investigated several cases of fraud in war contracts.

In 1946 he worked on the spy case revealed by Igor Gouzenko. He and another officer interrogated Gouzenko and a number of others, including former MP Fred Rose.

DEATH VALLEY MINER LAY HELPLESS

Blasts Came Closer... Closer...

SKIDOO (Death Valley), Calif. (UPI) — A 35-year-old miner who lay injured in a mine shaft while 11 charges of dynamite exploded in a series leading closer to him each time today related his terrifying experience from a hospital bed.

"I figured I'd had it," Frank Rasmussen said. "I hollered at my friend (Harry Boyer) and told him, 'Don't come in here—no use both of us dying.' He couldn't do nothing."

"I never want to go through that again," Rasmussen, who said the accident happened Sunday night in a small mine 18 feet below the surface near his Death Valley home at Skidoo, about 100 miles northeast of Los Angeles, received a compound fracture of the right leg and possible internal injuries.

"We were making a crosscut after sinking a shaft about 18 feet down," he said. "I put 15 holes in the ground and had 11 of them loaded with dynamite. When I finished loading the 11th one, the first one went off."

"The blast knocked me down and busted my leg. But it covered me up with dirt. That must have saved me. I lay there and listened as the next 10 went off, one by one, about four or five seconds apart."

Rasmussen said he stayed trapped in the hole until thick clouds of dust and powder began to clear and his partner, Boyer, came in after him.

"He put a ladder down the shaft and picked me up and carried me up that ladder. I don't know how he did it—one man—but he did it."

Rasmussen, suffering terrible pain from his broken leg, had to ride in a truck with Boyer for 45 miles to the nearest hospital.
